Council of League Hears Poison Gas Denounced By Eden

Every Great City in World Interested in Treaty Observance, Says British Foreign Minister, Drawing Italy's Use of Poison Bombs in Ethiopia to Delegates' Attention at Geneva; League Council Drafts New Appeal to Italy

Associated Press
Geneva, April 20.—Rt. Hon. Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary, bluntly attacked Italy's alleged use of poison gas today after Premier Mussolini had informed the League of Nations Council the Fascist nation demanded virtually all of Ethiopia as the price for peace.

Mr. Eden declared the question of the use of gas "cannot be passed over in silence."
He spoke in direct answer to Baron Pompeo Aloisi, Premier Mussolini's envoy, who declared the anti-gas treaty of 1925 "does not abolish the right of reprisals against atrocities such as our troops have suffered."

"The speeches by the two diplomats both contained strong statements," Baron Aloisi attacked the Ethiopian delegation vehemently, accusing its members of having decided even before they reached Geneva to refuse to negotiate for peace.

"Under these circumstances," exclaimed Baron Aloisi. "I wonder why I have been invited here!"
ALL INTERESTED
After the Italian diplomat had finished, Mr. Eden declared:

"Not only the two belligerents, but nearly all the nations of the world are parties to the anti-gas protocol of 1925."
"Is there one nation here, one nation anywhere on the earth's surface?"

INDIAN WINS BOSTON RACE

Associated Press
Boston, April 20.—Ellison (Tarzan) Brown, full-blooded Narragansett Indian, won the fourth annual Boston A.A. marathon today from Hopkington to Boston.

The swarthy Indian had run the 26 miles, 385 yards in 2 hours 33 minutes 40.4 seconds, about a minute behind the record, set in 1933 by Les Pawson of Pawtucket, R.I.

William F. McMahon, Worcester Running Club, Worcester, virtually an unknown among marathoners, crossed the Exeter Street finish line right on Brown's heels. His time was 2 hours 35 minutes 27.3 seconds.

Max Porter, German-American A.C., New York, was third. He made it in 2 hours 36 minutes 48 seconds.

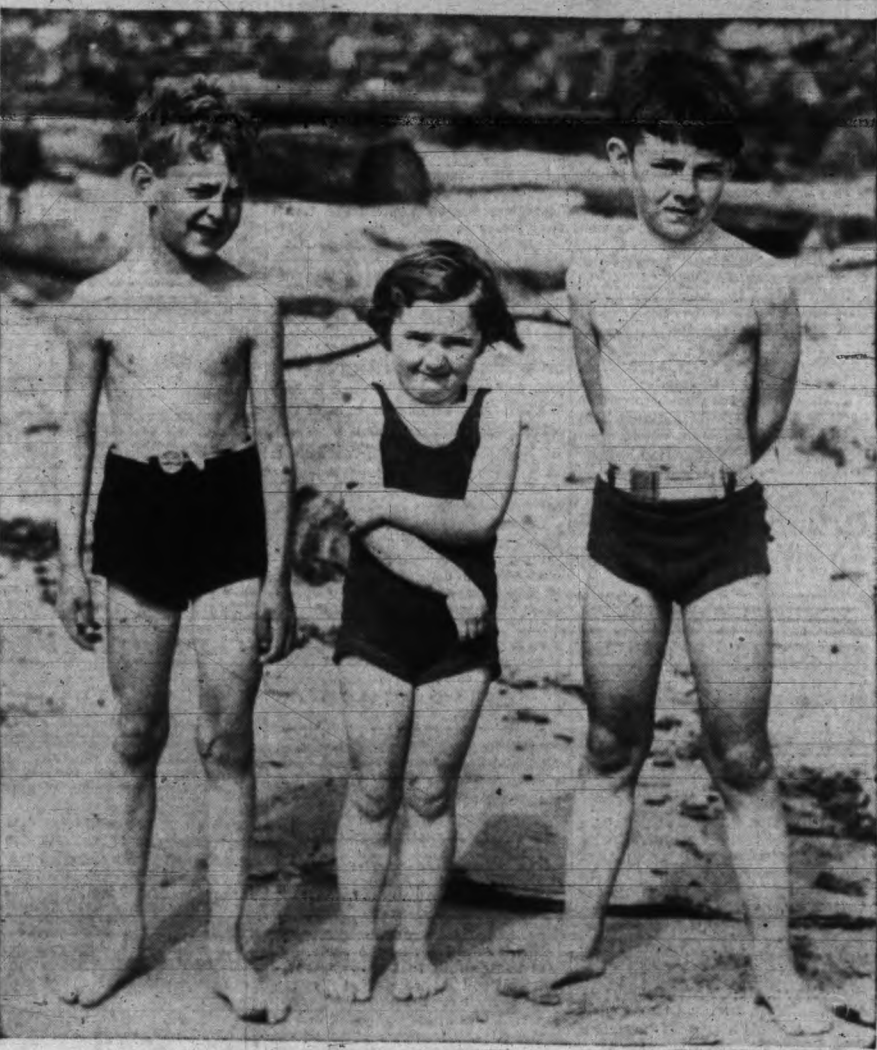

Another "unknown," Leo O. Gird, Brockton, was fourth. His time was 2 hours 37 minutes 16.2 seconds.

John Kelley, Arlington florist's assistant, who won the 1935 race, came in fifth in 2 hours 39 minutes 46 seconds.

Members Find Numerous Measures Awaiting Action When They Return From Easter Vacation; Budget First Week in May
Canadian Press
Ottawa, April 20.—A heavy agenda awaited the attention of members of the House of Commons this afternoon when they resumed the session after their Easter holiday, which started April 8.

No bills appeared on the order paper for introduction and the next routine order was the answering of questions, of which there are twenty.

The Water Was Fine These Youngsters Said

The Times cameraman visited some of the beaches yesterday afternoon and he came across the three youngsters in the above picture having a great time in the water off Dallas Road. The youngsters said the water was fine and invited the cameraman to try it. The cameraman, however, took their word for the condition of the water. Those in the picture, from right to left, are: Douglas Gillan, age seven of 183 Kingston Street, and Elaine Impey, five, and her brother, Arthur, nine, who both live at 323 Kingston Street.

Claims Evidence Shows Hauptmann Entirely Innocent

Chicago Lawyer, Working With Governor H. G. Hoffman of New Jersey in Investigation, Predicts "Real Kidnappers" of Lindbergh Baby Will Be Arrested Shortly; Says $5,000 Ransom Money Discovered

Associated Press
Chicago, April 20.—Arrest of the "real kidnappers" of the Lindbergh baby "within several weeks at the most" was predicted today by Bernard J. Finnigan, young Chicago lawyer who said he was taking part in governor Harold G. Hoffman's investigation of the case.

After flying home from the east Sunday with a claim to discovery of a hidden cache of $5,000 of the kidnap "ransom money," Finnigan declared "solution" of the case "may be only a few hours away."

Record Number Seek Election In France

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
Paris, April 20.—France' campaign calmly.
On Sunday next 4,867 candidates of all hues and shades will contest, in the first ballot, the 618 seats in the Chamber of Deputies of the sixteenth parliament of the Third Republic.

MAN WHO SCARED WOMAN HUNTED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 20.—Police today were searching for an unidentified man who attacked Mrs. Albert Gray near her home yesterday evening.

Mrs. Gray told police the man sneaked up behind her and grabbed her. He fled when she screamed for help.

HOPEFUL OF ROAD PLANS

Public Works Minister Says No Decision Yet on Negotiation With Ottawa

Hon. F. M. MacPherson, Minister of Public Works, today said he was "hopeful" of reaching an agreement with the federal government for doing road work on a dollar for dollar basis, as proposed at the Dominion-provincial conference this year.

The minister returned today from a visit to Ottawa, where he took up the question with the federal authorities. He explained that no commitments had been made, nor had the negotiations got down to the stage of discussing details.

The proposal at the conference was that the federal and provincial governments should split on a fifty-fifty basis the cost of work on the trans-Canada highway and main trunk roads.

Asked if the provincial government would continue its road hard-surfacing programme this year, the minister said this was still under consideration. No decision has been reached.

It is likely nothing can be settled on this matter until the present financial negotiations between Premier Pattullo and Ottawa have been concluded.

Last year the government surfaced 284 miles of highway and requests are pouring in from all over the province to have the work continued.

MACDONALD IS SLOWLY RECOVERING

Canadian Press from Havas
London, April 20.—Ramsay MacDonald, Lord President of the Council, who underwent a minor operation last week, passed a troubled night, attending physicians announced today. However, the former Prime Minister is not in a serious condition, and is slowly recovering, it was stated.

R.C.M.P. Man and Wife Found Shot

Vancouver Police Deduce Lance-Corporal G. H. Whiteman Killed Bride of Two Months, Then Turned Gun on Himself; Mrs. Whiteman Lived 23 Years in Victoria

Canadian Press
Vancouver, April 20.—Acting Lance-Corporal George H. Whiteman of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and his bride of two months, Mrs. Lillian Whiteman, were found shot to death in the woman's room at 690 Bute Street yesterday.

Police declare their belief the officer shot his wife to death and then sent a bullet from his heavy service revolver through his own head at approximately 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

Today police were investigating to learn the motive, if possible. Discovery of the tragedy was made by Miss Jean Doby, a friend of Mrs. Whiteman, who occupies a room adjoining the one in which the shooting occurred.

HEARD BY TWO
Two persons heard the sound of shots in the Bute Street house between 8.45 and 9 o'clock Saturday evening, and police examination of the bodies led to this being accepted as the time of the tragedy.

In answer to the alarm turned in by Miss Doby, Cooner J. Whitbread, Superintendent H. Darling, Inspector J. F. C. B. Vance of the Vancouver police bureau, and Detectives H. Vince, A. Stewart and A. Paton.

H. R. Magill Succumbs in Moose River Pit Before Rescue Crews Are Able to Break Through; Dr. D. Robertson and A. Scadding Trapped in Mine Since April 12

Canadian Press
Halifax, April 20.—Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding, imprisoned in the Moose River Gold Mine since Sunday, April 12, reported late today through the microphone transmitter they could hear rescuers breaking through into their prison from the old Reynolds shaft. H. R. Magill, the third man, died early this morning.

Daredevil Draeger men from Stellarton and miners from Porcupine, Ont., had been working feverishly in the dangerous, abandoned Reynolds shaft since 4.30 this morning, when the two men reported their level was flooding.

Gray Supports Refunding Plan

Government Will Ratify Schemes If Majority of Bondholders Consent

If the cities of Victoria and Vancouver can secure consent of 51 per cent of their bondholders to refunding or interest reduction schemes the provincial government will ask the Legislature to ratify the schemes, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, said today.

The minister, just returned from a ten-day tour through the interior, was greatly interested in the efforts of the two largest cities of the province to secure reductions in interest to balance their budgets.

A few weeks ago in the Legislature he suggested that this appeared to be their only solution.

The 1936 budgets of both Victoria and Vancouver show large anticipated deficits if the present interest must be paid.

Mayor G. G. McGeer, K.C., last week renewed his move for interest reduction by placing before the city council a plan to refund the entire

YOUTHS SENT TO JAIL FOR LIFE

Associated Press
Chicago, April 20.—Durland Nash and Robert Goethe, both nineteen, who pleaded guilty to the murder of Silber C. Peacock, child specialist who was turned to his death by a spurious sick call last January 5, were sentenced today to 199 years in prison each by Criminal Court Judge Joseph Burke.

ROOSEVELT TO VISIT OTTAWA

Report Says President May Be Guest of Baron Tweedsmuir Early in June
Canadian Press
New York, April 20.—President Roosevelt's proposed visit to Canada to advance his "good neighbor" policy may be made early in June, says a special dispatch from Washington to The New York Tribune.

It has been known for some time the President hoped to visit Canada soon, but it was stated at the White House yesterday evening that a recent denial that any date had been set "still stands."

The Herald-Tribune dispatch says, however, that June 8 and 10—when the Republican convention will be in session in Cleveland—is under discussion as the date on which the President would visit Baron Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, at Ottawa.

AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY
Another possible date suggested would enable the President and Lord Tweedsmuir to return together to Boston for the commencement exercises at Harvard University, which the President is expected to attend, those who have discussed the proposed trip with Mr. Roosevelt know he is anxious to have Canada join hands in his "good neighbor" policy in the western hemisphere.

WIDE INTEREST IN MINE RESCUE

Canadian Press
London, April 20.—Great Britain's people today followed the plight of the entombed men in a Nova Scotia mine with intense and sympathetic interest.

London evening newspapers all devoted placards to the event and carried news dispatches running, as long as a couple of columns.

The death of Herman Magill, the third man imprisoned in the mine by a cave-in Easter Sunday night, Mrs. Robertson arrived at this point.

Toronto Paper Has Jubilee

Evening Telegram Marks Its Sixtieth Anniversary With Special Edition

Toronto, April 20.—Founded by the late John Ross Robertson April 18, 1876, The Toronto Evening Telegram Saturday celebrated its diamond jubilee. Two pages were set aside to record the career of the paper, which started as a four-page, seven column daily printed on a hand-fed press and with a total staff of twenty-three.

In its lifetime The Evening Telegram has occupied three buildings as its growth necessitated expansion. It now has a staff of 774, not including 100 correspondents.

Today The Telegram is printed on presses turning out 200,000 forty-eight-page papers an hour, delivered by a fleet of forty-five trucks and seven cars. In 1876 a squadron of bugles made the deliveries.

Fifth and present editor of The Telegram is Charles O. Knowles, who joined the staff in 1902, when the employees numbered 134. He has been reporter, telegraph editor and city editor. Attaining his present position in 1932. His predecessors and their years of service were John C. Dent, 1876-1878; Alexander F. Price, 1878-1888; John R. Robertson, 1888-1928; and Ervin E. Robertson, 1928-1932.

In the evening the island group were hosts to the visitors at a dinner held at the Oak Bay Beach Hotel, when John Kyle, supervisor of technical education, was the guest speaker.

LODGE INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

With colorful ceremony the following officers, who will guide the destiny of Victoria Lodge No. 1390 L.O.O.M. for 1936 were duly installed on Friday evening last at the K.P. Hall, Broad Street: Dictator, W. A. Kettle; past dictator, J. G. Johnstone; vice-dictator, S. Hunt; prelate, Frank Humphrey; treasurer, D. M. McArthur; sergeant-at-arms, W. Fawcett; inner guard, Dennis Moore; outer guard, E. Monk.

Past Dictator G. T. Allan and John Pearce, grand installing officers, were very ably assisted by the drill team of the Victoria Chapter No. 24 L.O.O.M., under the direction of Mrs. A. Hatcher, captain. This ceremony was the first time open to the public, was witnessed by a large gathering of friends.

A delegation from Nanaimo included Bro. Ald. J. Hindmarch, Bro. Ald. Geo. Muir, Bro. P. D. Moore and others who brought felicitations from Lodge No. 1052, and gave brief addresses, and did several of the newly-installed officers and Bro. Leonard W. Cox, the secretary, who holds office for a period of three years. All emphasized the spirit of co-operation and progress.

During the evening Bro. Hedley of Nanaimo rendered several, very enjoyable numbers on the English concertina.

ANTI-VIVISECTION SOCIETY REPORTS

Correspondence read at the recent board meeting of the local anti-vivisection society showed that there was a considerable forward movement against vivisection in all parts of the world.

H. Pate, a recent visitor to the headquarters of the British Union for Abolition of Vivisection, in London, reported that the work of the Victoria society was well known there and the highest praise of its activities was expressed.

The local society corresponds with similar organizations in all parts of the world, keeping up a continuous interchange of information. Miss Kitto reported that Sybil, Lady Eden, the mother of Great Britain's Foreign Secretary, was a pronounced opponent of animal experimentation and was vice-president of the Home Branch of the British Union.

In a recent address Lady Eden appealed for support of the cause, stating that "the doing of grave evil in the name of science is not justifiable." She emphasized the importance of obtaining the co-operation of public with a view to approaching the government and getting the practice abolished.

The board has decided to reprint a most valuable pamphlet by W. B. Fenn, "An Introduction to the Case Against Vivisection," which is largely in demand. The "Canadian Abolitionist" is published in Victoria.

It was decided to hold a house-meeting shortly, at a date and place to be arranged. The subject will be "Herbs for the Use of Man." Report was made on a recent film portraying the life and work of Pasteur and considerable criticism was made regarding the alleged inaccuracies in this portrayal, it being claimed that no benefits to health have been derived from Pasteur's work.

CAR LOADINGS

Ottawa, April 20 (Canadian Press).—Car loadings after the week ended April 11 amounted to 40,235, a decrease of 3,321 compared with 43,556 the corresponding week in 1935, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported.

Because of the shift of the holiday (Good Friday), the index number rose from 74.72 last year to 76.04. Effect of the holiday interfered with direct comparisons with the previous week also.

Control of Poultry Disease Discussed

Coccidiosis, dread disease of chickens, could not be cured once it had started its life cycle in a bird, declared F. P. McNeil, poultry expert of Buckenfields, Limited, Vancouver, at a special meeting of the Victoria Poultry Association in the Y.M.C.A. Saturday evening.

Control measures, however, were possible, Mr. McNeil averred, by developing immunity during slight infection. This depended a great deal on sanitation and the use of medicated mash.

The poultryman discussed the disease from all angles showing how it was caused by a protozoan parasite which existed in dormant state in fertilized eggs and the soil of chicken yards.

He advocated bone-dry litter, thorough liming of the soil in the chicken yard and sowing of fast growing wheats or grasses where possible, as deterrents to the disease.

A.Y.F.A. LOCAL COUNCIL

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria and District Local Council of the Anglican Young People's Association, was held Thursday evening, at the Memorial Hall, the president, Ernie Gray, in the chair.

It was decided that an essay competition will be conducted by the local council on the theme of world peace. A committee was appointed to make all arrangements. The young people discussed the advisability of forming a Bible-reading fellowship for the coming season and Rev. Lancaster made many helpful suggestions.

The badminton convenor reported that in the inter-branch league St. Barnabas stands first with eight games. The standing of the remaining branches is as follows: St. Mat-

POPE BELIEVES LIFE ENDING

Tells Pilgrims From France He Is Nearing Close of His Career

Vatican City, April 20.—Pope Pius feels himself approaching the end of his span of life. The Pontiff, who will be seventy-nine years old May 21, told a pilgrimage of French religious press writers at the week-end to "return soon" because, when one approaches eighty, he "cannot make long-term appointments."

The Pope urged his listeners to remember, however, that another would be in his place no matter when they were able to return to the Vatican.

In blessing the press conference members, the Pontiff referred sadly to the general political situation, to which his intimate ascribed much of the weariness which has weighed his recent activities.

Inequalities In Russia Continue

Time Not Yet Here For Complete Leveling Off of Distribution, Says Soviet in Its Official Magazine

Moscow, April 20.—That the Soviet state must for the time being carry on with certain traditions inherited from the bourgeoisie was among important announcements contained in a statement on governmental and social development in Soviet Russia published today.

The statement made plain among other things the time has not yet arrived to abandon the principle or practice of compulsion and that inequality of income and therefore of the distribution of the material comforts of life must continue in the transitional period under the protective guidance of the state.

NO POLITICAL PARTIES

Further, the statement showed, democratization of the Soviet system under the new constitution now being formulated, will not lead to the creation of political parties or any organization opposed to the Communist Party. These explanations were printed in the magazine Bolshevik, official organ of the Central Committee of the Communist Party.

The new constitution under study will grant the right of an equal vote to all Soviet citizens except those disfranchised by the courts. The class origin of the citizen will not be taken into account, the article said. The voting will be direct and secret and, according to Joseph Stalin, Soviet leader, as quoted in the magazine, will serve as a "whip in the hands of the people against badly working organs of the state."

The "hopes of our enemies," the Bolshevik continued, "that the new constitution will bring the creation of new political parties and therefore weaken the influence of the Communist Party, will soon be dashed."

Former R.N.W.M.P. Sergt.-Major Dies

Richmond Hill, Ont., April 20.—Sergeant-Major William Pury, who had a colorful career as a member of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, participating in one of the last battles against Indians in western Canada following a massacre at Frog Lake, died yesterday in his ninety-fifth year. He was active until recently, shoveling snow during the winter.

Born in Ireland, Sergt. Pury was active in protecting camps of workers building the Canadian Pacific Railway through the Rockies. He retired from the service after being wounded and lived for many years in this district. He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Margaret Thompson.

Jigsaw puzzles are traced back to the early Egyptians.

Ottawa Man Loses Life While Hunting

Quebec, April 20.—Victim of a hunting accident, Cyril W. Everett of Ottawa, local manager of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, was almost instantly killed yesterday. According to his wife and several other friends who witnessed the mishap, Everett bent down to pick up a bird he had just shot down when he accidentally touched the trigger of his rifle and it discharged.

Officers Barred From Politics

Army Men in Spain Must Stand Clear, Parliament Decides

Madrid, April 20.—Parliament, after an all night session approved a bill early Sunday forbidding army officers to participate in "political activities."

The body then recessed for a week's vacation.

Under the order of the Ministry of the Interior, several high civil guards have been relieved of duty pending further orders, presumably because of their connection with street fighting here last Thursday.

Reports of fresh disorders, including an attempt to assassinate an army general, seeped into the capital through strict censorship.

One policeman was killed and another seriously wounded in Castellon when they attempted to arrest three men for a robbery.

Earl Harewood Urges Defence

Brother-in-law of King Edward, Addressing Militia Unit in Yorkshire, Scores Hitler

Ruddersfield, Yorkshire, April 20.—Earl of Harewood, brother-in-law of the King, opening the territorial drill hall here, said that "if you examine the methods of Chancellor Hitler it is difficult to draw any parallel to them except the methods of a gangster."

After referring to Hitler's treatment of politicians and Jews, Lord Harewood said: "All that does not interest us when he governs in his own country, but it does begin to interest us the moment his hand begins showing outside his own country."

"The moment he begins terrorizing outside his own country," Lord Harewood continued, "we are obliged to take an interest. If we are dealing with a highwayman or gangster we shall do so more comfortably if we are armed with a bullet-proof shirt. It is a bullet-proof shirt we have to provide somehow in this country, and that can be provided by an effective territorial army."

OCTOGENARIAN DIES

Nelson, B.C., April 20 (Canadian Press).—Charles Hendrickson, eighty-year-old pioneer of the Lardeau district, died yesterday while being brought to Nelson for medical treatment. Police received word the man was ill late Saturday and went immediately to bring him here, but the aged Hendrickson died before reaching the city.

REPORTS USED AS SCRIBBLERS

Prairie Children Received Many Farm Circulars From Ottawa

Ottawa, April 20.—A new racket has been uncovered by officials of the Department of Agriculture. It was being carried out by boys and girls in country districts, and with heavy hearts the officials have had to break it up.

The department issues many reports which are available to any farmer who is sufficiently interested to write and ask that he be put on the mailing list. A growing demand developed, particularly from the prairie, for one weekly report and as the circulation lists grew longer and longer, the head of the branch became suspicious.

This particular report has printing on only one side of each sheet and the branch head began to wonder if most of applicants were not children who would use the back of the sheets for scribbles. Letters to postmasters confirmed this suspicion. The children were getting their "scribbles" mailed to them every week from Ottawa. Some schoolrooms were flooded with them.

"It is too bad to have to break it up," said a kindhearted official. "I suppose many of the families are so hard up that a free scribbler means a lot. At that perhaps these kids make better use of the reports than many grown-ups to whom we send them. The children were smart enough, however, to put O.H.M.S. (on His Majesty's service) on the letters to use and save using postage stamps."

NEW VICEROY BROADCASTS

Lord Linlithgow Asks Trust of People of India as He Takes Up Task

New Delhi, India, April 20.—The Marquess of Linlithgow has taken over the duties of Viceroy for a five-year term that will see the far-reaching constitution reforms of the Government of India Act put into effect.

The new Governor-General, inaugurated Saturday, began his proconsulship with a broadcast to the people of India appealing for the same whole-hearted trust in him that he promised to extend to them. He emphasized the Viceroy was strictly impartial and promised full support to the services of the crown, to which he extended greetings.

Speaking to the millions of newly-enfranchised voters, Lord Linlithgow said that in no circumstances should it be for him to advise them how to vote. He said the leaders of political parties "competing within the orbit of the constitution for the suffrage of the provincial electorates" might rely on him "never wittingly to use language calculated to prejudice their lawful interests."

He advised the younger generation "to fear God, honor the King-Emperor and obey your parents." Recalling his four-year study of rural economy and political reconstruction in India, the Viceroy admonished district officers to "know your villages."

BOY OF SEVEN IN POLICE HANDS

Chicago, April 20.—Ernest Temple Jr., seven, missing four days after being driven from home almost naked, was safe today. He was found yesterday hiding in a basement.

He fled from police after a housekeeper had caught him trying to enter the kitchen of a residence. The chase led to the cellar of the building, where the lad was captured.

Dirty and disheveled, still clad only in the thin suit of underwear he wore when he left home, the boy was taken to the police station to confront his father and stepmother. Held in police custody there, the parents accused each other of the son's plight.

VANCOUVER MAN ROBBED OF $114

Vancouver, April 20.—Max Katz reported to police he was held up by two men at Hawkes Avenue and Hastings Street late Saturday night and robbed of $114 in cash. Katz, who was returning from his Robson Street store, was forced into an alley, where his money was taken.

A lone thug attacked Mrs. E. Morgan at Clarke Drive and Eleventh Avenue early yesterday morning and robbed her of her purse containing $5.

BLENDING— The process that determines flavour

ALL cigarettes are a blend of tobaccos. There is no such thing to-day as a cigarette containing only one type or kind of tobacco. If there were, you wouldn't like it.

Individual smoking tastes differ. Just as some people like certain foods, while others dislike them, so some cigarette smokers display a marked preference for a certain brand of cigarettes, while their friends think otherwise. That is why the Imperial Tobacco Company manufactures many different brands. We strive always to satisfy every cigarette preference.

For some Imperial cigarette brands, as many as forty different types, classifications and crops of tobacco are required in varying proportions, in order to create a cigarette with a distinctive flavour. This tobacco comes from Virginia, from Carolina, from Kentucky and from Norfolk, Oxford and Elgin counties in Ontario, and other world-famous tobacco growing countries.

The essential requirement is that every cigarette sold under a familiar trade name, must, at all times, be exactly the same as every other cigarette bearing the same name.

To achieve this scrupulous accuracy, the Imperial Tobacco Company, through many years of scientific experimentation, has developed a formula for each brand so exact that experts' tests can discover no difference between two cigarettes in ten million of the same brand, whether purchased in Halifax or in Vancouver.

But, although the flavour is different, the same fine quality is maintained in all cigarettes produced by Imperial Tobacco Company. We manufacture different types to suit different tastes and the quality never varies.

TRAFFIC TRAGEDIES

IN SPITE OF INCREASINGLY DRASTIC regulations and penalties, safety campaigns in the press and on the radio, special educational courses and demonstrations of the dangers and consequences of reckless driving, the death toll from traffic accidents continues to mount. The terrible tragedy on the Everett-Seattle highway on Saturday night, in which the five occupants of one colliding car were cremated and one of those who were in the other lost his life, would appear to emphasize the necessity of going still deeper into the soil of prevention. While an investigation of this tragedy has not yet been completed, it is reported that the car whose occupants suffered the least was speeding at eighty miles an hour.

A good road and a high-powered car present a temptation for reckless driving which is irresistible at times to even drivers who are usually prudent. This is a fascination which society for a large part, no matter where it lives, simply can not ignore. The spirit which prompts many people to live dangerously and to succumb to the lure of speed is still too prevalent to gratify in so pervasive a manner as that which is provided by a common utility so easily available as a high-speed motor vehicle. These cars can move faster than the thought processes of the average person, and the time is at hand when there should be a restriction upon their manufacture.

It is true that all traffic accidents are not caused by fast driving—in fact, some of them are due to slow driving—but excessive speed is the principal factor, and this can be definitely controlled by preventing the sale of vehicles which can be driven at a dangerous rate. Not one person in ten thousand needs to be in such a hurry as the rate of speed at which many of them drive suggests they are. Society would be much better off if it were compelled to move more slowly, and had more time in which to substitute elementary thinking for foolish impulses.

A USEFUL DEPARTMENT

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS, SHORTLY before the adjournment for Easter, the Prime Minister gave notice of a motion "to provide for a Department of Mines, Resources and Colonization, to comprise the present Department of Interior, of Mines, of Immigration and Colonization, of Indian Affairs, and the administration of the Northwest and Yukon Territories."

There is a widespread impression that for the new department only one deputy minister will be designated. The proposal has aroused no little concern among those who appreciate the vital importance of the mineral industry, and the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy will submit a recommendation that the Department of Mines be maintained under the direction of a deputy minister of mines qualified by special training and experience to direct the invaluable services rendered to this important industry.

The Department of Mines at Ottawa has been developed to serve the mineral industry, an industry which has reached an annual production in excess of $300,000,000 and is still expanding.

In 1886 the compilation of mineral statistics was first undertaken. It has been expanded, latterly under the Dominion statistician to its present wide scope and value.

In 1907 the Department of Mines was inaugurated. It now includes the Bureau of Economic Geology, the mines branch, and the explosives division. Closely allied with it is the Dominion Fuel Board.

The mines branch comprises the division of mineral resources, the division of ore dressing and metallurgy, the division of fuels and fuel testing, the division of ceramics and road materials, and the chemical division.

It is impossible to enumerate the services rendered by the Department of Mines. They are available to all who are striving to develop mineral resources, even to the humblest prospector. They have been without question an important factor in the expansion of the industry to its present impressive status.

The department, in the opinion of mining men, still requires the direction of a deputy minister of mines in direct contact with the minister and qualified for the post by specialized knowledge of mining and all the sciences pertaining to the mineral industry.

Mining men in all parts of Canada are anxious for assurance that the Department of Mines will not be submerged and that the industry will not be deprived of a deputy minister of mines at Ottawa, qualified by special training and experience for his important office. They suggest that if the fishing industry with an annual production of about $20,000,000 requires a deputy minister of fisheries, as no doubt it does, then surely the mineral industry which is expanding more rapidly than any other basic Canadian industry, and has already passed the $300,000,000 mark, requires the full-time services of a permanent deputy minister of mines.

MR. BALDWIN'S WARNING

WHEN MR. BALDWIN TOLD AN audience in Worcester on Saturday that another great war in Europe in which poisonous gases would be used would result in a revolution which would sweep over every country involved in it, he was not letting his imagination run away with him. He was merely stating a grim, inexorable fact. He could have gone farther and said that another great war irrespective of the use of poisonous gases would overturn every existing governmental system in every country which took part in it, without any exception. It is common knowledge that if the last conflict had been continued for another year the revolutions which swept over Russia, Germany, Austro-Hungary and Turkey would have extended their lurid ramifications far into their opponents. And that war did not reach the civil population so devastatingly as another one would because the destructive possibilities of aerial attack were in an incipient stage in comparison with what they are today.

Nor is it possible to restrict the operations of airplanes or the kind of weapons and bombs they would use; Italy's use of poison gases in Ethiopia in the face of her own signature on the convention which forbids it makes that abundantly clear. In a modern war the sky is the limit of method and purpose. Regulatory rules are farcical; they would be violated without the slightest scruple, just as treaties have been, and are, violated where war preparations or actual war activity is concerned. Europe assuredly will relapse right into the jungle if it engages in another great war. It will become a collection of "has-been" nations, just as the great empires of the past have sunk into negligible or minor importance.

A DIFFICULT TASK

GOVERNMENTS ARE NOT SUFFERING from want of advice on how to reduce or cure unemployment. At a recent sitting of the House of Commons while the bill to create the National Employment Commission was under discussion twenty-three suggestions were offered and they were practically all different. The range of them extended from amendment to the British North America Act and taxation of wealth to the investigation of salaries paid to bank clerks. The tariff naturally did not escape mention. The high protectionists saw a panacea by increasing it, while low-tariff advocates predicted much benefit were the flow of commodities between this and other countries made easier by the reduction of customs duties.

It was just as well that the House should hear all these suggestions. Unemployment is one of the Dominion's gravest, if not the gravest, problem with which all governments are being called upon to deal. The Commission for which Parliament has made provision has a very difficult and delicate job ahead of it and the people would do well to realize at the outset that it will be a long time before it will be in a position to present its recommendations to the government. It is obvious Premier King fully recognizes this fact, for his appropriation bill will earmark no less a sum than $75,000,000 for various forms of relief this year. It will be expended on public works, reforestation, highway building and direct relief to the provinces. We are reminded by a contemporary, that the total revenue of the Dominion in no year between 1867 and 1905 exceeded the amount to be expended this year in an effort to "ameliorate employment conditions."

In the spending of these millions, as The Toronto Globe quite properly observes, the aim should be, so far as possible, to do work of a public nature that is needed and which will be of an enduring type. A reasonable share of the money spent should reach the people who need it most—those who, long unemployed, will be given something to do. It will be recalled that in previous government expenditures on relief work a pitiful fraction of the appropriations reached the workers. Relief has developed as a complicated business and many abuses have arisen. It must be the first aim of the government to see that the best possible use is made of the millions to be spent during the year. Sorely harried taxpayers will be keen observers of what is done with their money.

An Ottawa dispatch says rats have invaded the Bureau of Statistics, devoured copies of the latest crop report, and a vigorous hunt for the spoilers has begun. We suggest without charge two stratagems, either of which should put an end to the nuisance. One is to have a Pied Piper pipe the rats into the Ottawa River. The other is to open the doors and windows of the federal printing and stationery bureau so that the rodents may enter and try a diet of Hansard reports of the Debates of the House of Commons and Senate. This latter expedient would be entirely successful, but it might violate some of the numerous international conventions for restricting atrocities in war, or fall foul of the S.P.C.A.

A TWO WEEKS' COURSE
The Regina Leader-Post

Hon. Charles Dunning, Canadian Minister of Finance, has mentioned in the House of Commons at Ottawa that he does not know what Social Credit is. He admits that he may be dense but has to confess that no one has been able to make him understand it. Now, Mr. Dunning is regarded as reasonably smart and has had a lot of experience with financial matters, money, etc. But he cannot comprehend Social Credit. What this country needs is a brighter man in the finance department. The Leader-Post could name fellows who have studied Social Credit for a couple of weeks and who now can tell you all about it. Not only that; they can tell you about foreign exchange, international finance, the gold standard, what to do while waiting for the doctor to arrive, and lots of things.

TEN GALLONS A SUMMER
The Halifax Chronicle

Invention never stops and the latest promises great things for every man who drives a car. To tell any motorist that he may yet be able to do a whole summer's driving on ten or twelve gallons of gas would be to meet with a quizzical stare; its absurdity seems altogether too obvious. But Winnipeg replies that this situation is already here and is ready to bring forward proof.

For sixteen years C. N. Pogue of that city has been working on a new type of carburetor which can be affixed to an ordinary car, and at long last claims to have met with success. With the temperature 10 below zero and a stiff wind blowing, an eight-cylinder coupe traveled 26.3 miles with this attachment on one pint of gasoline. This would represent 269.8 miles to the gallon. At the same rate the ordinary man would be able to drive all summer on ten or twelve gallons.

It seems altogether too good to be true, but a syndicate is preparing to market the new device and we will see what we will see.

Loose Ends

It is hard to come back, even to the glory of Victoria's spring—especially when you find that everyone is so much happier up there on the plateau—But, as Mrs. Noggins says, it all depends on the way you look at it.
By BRUCE HUTCHISON

TOO LATE

"IT'S TOO LATE," said the little boy from next door by way of greeting to me on my return from the plateau: "it's too bad you didn't get here a couple of days ago. I went to the barber last Friday and the perfume he put on my hair smelled swell for a couple of days. It doesn't smell quite so good now, does it? I guess it's fading out, kind of. That's the trouble with perfume, it fades out. You should have come home last week for the best of it."

"Lots of things have happened since you went away," said his sister. "Mr. Spinks isn't going to marry Miss Snipe after all. We knew when he stopped shaving he wasn't going to. As long as he was 'going to,' he kept shaving. Now he doesn't so he doesn't love her any more. His whiskers are about a mile long."

NOTHING

"BLESSED YET," said Mrs. Noggins, "ain't nothin' appened since you was gone. Ever'body's the same only more so. They're goin' to 'ave a war in Europe right away, but ain't they allus? Muscoloney's 'e beat them Bulgians with poison gas in order to give 'em modern civilization. They got it all right. Muscoloney says them 'athens' 'as got to be interjected to Christianity and a proper way of livin', even if 'e's got to kill the lot of 'em to do it."

"The other countries, they can't stop Muscoloney because they don't want to 'urt 'im when they need 'im to fight Tiler. The Frenchies says it's all wrong to put sanctions on Muscoloney just for gasin' a lot of 'athens' 'ave got to be taught Christianity and civilization. Wot we got to do, the Frenchies says, is put sanctions on them Germans for takin' back their own land."

"Say, what is sanctions anyway? And this fella Locarno. Who is 'e? I'm allus readin' in the newspapers there ain't bin many papers comin' over lately from the Boggs with baggage in 'em because the Boggs is on a diet for stomach trouble and don't eat so much—well, like I say, I'm allus readin' about this fella, Locarno, bein' dead. Why, 'e's allus dyin' but somebody's allus revivin' 'im. Seems like to me 'e's the cause of most of the trouble. Why don't they let 'im die when 'e's sick and be done with 'im?"

PROSPERITY

"O' COURSE," said Mrs. Noggins. "You 'ard that prosperity'd come back when you was away. Bless you, sir, it's back. Ever'body says so. Ever'body's just where they was before when we was broke but now it's prosperity. Ever'body's got the same money and the same wages and prices is 'igher, but it's prosperity. There's as many on the dole as ever, but that don't matter. We've got prosperity. Ever'body says so. All the hindens is up, wotever they say. If the price of hogs was up it would be better, but no matter. We got prosperity now sure."

"The only difference between the depression and prosperity is you feel poor in the depression and you feel rich in prosperity, even if yer money buys less. It ain't wot you got, but just 'ow you feel. So, as my boy Alf always says—'e don't mean no 'arm by it—but like Alf says, so what the 'ell?"

HAPPINESS

"IT IS HARD, though, to come back off the grim, frozen plateau, where nobody worries about anything, this Victoria, this hower of flowers, this fairy land of April, where everybody worries about everything. It is a shock to realize, even though you have realized it every other year, that our high civilization seems to bring no happiness, whereas the barbarians up yonder are happy nearly all the time.

The happiest man I have ever met lived beside the Cariboo Road in a little log hut on the roof of which the soda were just beginning to turn green and the dead stalks of last year's grass clicked in the wind. In that neighborhood his income was estimated at about $150 a year, but no one had ever seen him when he wasn't smiling, and usually whistling a curious little tune between his teeth.

And one of the first persons I met on my return here was a man whose wealth is estimated in millions and who told me that things were very bad. This little wave of prosperity, said he, would soon pass. The upward cycle started in the spring of 1933 and is now three years old. In the normal course it will last seven years, so that by 1940 at latest the next crash will occur and it will be far worse than the last, because we shall go into it with huge debts and unemployment. Then governments will have to borrow still more money to keep the destitute and all debts will be repudiated and heaven knew what will happen.

Besides, income taxes are unbearable already, he said, and heaven knew what the world is coming to. There is no security or happiness left for anyone any more. He said we had better have a drink because we might not be able to, soon. I thought of the old man in his shack beside the road, whistling his crazy tune between his teeth and drinking in the spring sunshine with ecstacy.

FLAVOR

YET, DESPITE the inhabitants, there is a flavor about Victoria at this season which you can only appreciate when you come upon it suddenly, full-blown; when you have gone away in the grip of winter and come back to find spring well under way. In two weeks this whole countryside has changed from a dull brown to a vivid green. The oak woods are thick with daffodils that were stiff in the wind like prim maidens with yellow bonnets. The old plum tree is a billow of white bloom which is beginning already to sift down like perfumed snow. And everywhere the weeds are surging up with their old enthusiasm so that the gardener, instead of enjoying the fruits of his labor, lives in a nightmare of hate and frenzy, trying to keep up with the march of spring.

On the whole, I am inclined to think that under our form of civilization the only person who really enjoys the spring is the old man sitting there at the door of his cabin whistling between his teeth. The rest of us are too busy.

Other People's Views

WHY?

To the Editor:—I note by your press columns that the B.C. Agricultural Association in co-operation with the Victoria Riding Club have arranged a big gymkhana at the Willows on May 25.

It is stated that St. Joseph's and Jubilee Hospitals and the Solumar are to receive the "net" profit on this ill-conceived gymkhana. Why should the B.C. Agricultural Association choose May 25 for this particular activity, seeing that it immediately detracts from the drawing power of the 24th May celebration, which are scheduled to include May 25 and are supported by City Council funds?

There are 364 more days in each year, when the B.C. Agricultural Association could have staged this event, and any date other than May 25 would have been at least equally financially profitable, owing to the desirability of those causes which are to receive these net profits.

I hear that, as a direct result of this competitive fixture now arranged, the 24th May committee has already canceled the annual regatta at the Corps, and further cancellations may be expected. As Alderman Tom Hawkins is chairman of the 24th May celebrations, and vice-president of the B.C. Agricultural Association and also holds a position on the executive board of this unfortunately-dated gymkhana, it would seem as though the worthy alderman was torn between the responsibilities of his various offices.

How we people of Victoria, in the wise counsel and unprejudiced decisions of the late Alderman John Worthington.

I have published the 24th May programme for forty years, and have always devoted sale proceeds to local charities.

This year I am, for the first time asked to pay $62.50 to the committee for the "privileges."

Because I am proud of our city I willingly gave the celebrations committee $400 one year, to save our "face."

Very few citizens would begrudge me the few hard-earned dollars I get out of such programme and other publications—especially as they know it is my living.

Again I ask why Alderman Hawkins allows the B.C. Agricultural Association to take away 24th May revenue by this show on the 25th?

DOUGLAS CREDIT FALLACIES

To the Editor:—In your Saturday issue Major Jukes trots out all the usual Douglas credit fallacies. Douglas never "proved" that industry does not generate purchasing-power at the same rate that it generates prices. He only proved his ignorance in imagining that the wages and profits of a factory ought to equal the prices of the goods produced, whereas a large proportion of such prices has been already distributed in payments for the raw and semi-manufactured materials used.

There cannot be a production worth $6,000,000,000 and a purchasing deficiency of $1,000,000,000 as Major Jukes suggests. The price of a motor car includes the manufacturers' profits plus all his costs, and these include the costs of all other organizations which have contributed to its production.

As Douglas cannot prove the existence of a gap, he has no argument left to protect this method from the charge of inflation.

In "Credit Power and Democracy" he attempts to escape from this dilemma by stating, "it is the rate of flow that matters. If the outflow is less than the inflow, someone has to lose purchasing-power." But he has never been able to show that "the outflow is less than the inflow. He has to admit that payments for raw and semi-manufactured goods are purchasing-power, but tries to evade the consequences by reference to the rate of flow. But, as all such payments are purchasing-power, there can be no difference in the long run between "outflow and inflow," the volume of purchasing-power and that of prices.

He ignores the fact that purchasing-power paid out for raw and semi-manufactured goods, namely in respect of future production, is sufficient to enable the public to buy the consumers' goods produced now. There were two methods open to Douglas for arriving at the truth: to review a complete series of industrial processes from production of the raw material to the final product, or to take a period of time and ascertain the final products and purchasing-power created during that period. By either of these methods he would have discovered that the volume of purchasing-power equals the price of final products. So he avoids both these tests.

He admits that all costs have been distributed, but argues that some of them have been spent already. Consequently, when he speaks of "the outflow being less than the inflow," he is disavowing, quite reasonably, the purchasing-power distributed and spent, but also, quite unreasonably, the advance payments now available for spending. In other words, he recognizes that production is a continuous process when looking backwards, but ignores this when looking forward. As long as production is a continuous process there will be purchasing-power distributed in advance to balance the advance payments already spent.

"Every man, woman, and child," according to Major Jukes, is to receive money gratuitously as a shareholder in a national co-operative. But under the profit system all productive property is privately owned. In the whole process of production the state or "national co-operative" does not at any time acquire ownership of the goods produced.

Thus Social Credit confers on us the privilege of belonging to and sharing in the profits of a joint-stock company with no assets. Our difficulties are not caused by our flexible monetary economy, but by the rigidities of the profit system, which these major, unvaried in economics, are so anxious to maintain.

I will demonstrate hereafter, out of the mouth of Douglas himself, that the assertion that Social Credit would not cause inflation is false.

MEN PREFER BRIGHT HUES

Optimistic Spirit Reflected in Choice of Clothes, Says A. M. Talbot

"We find men going in more for the brighter patterns and more colorful fabrics," said A. M. Talbot, sales manager of Tip Top Tailors Ltd.

A. M. TALBOT who was in Victoria at the week-end on his way back to Toronto after inspecting the company's stores in Victoria and other coast cities.

"We've found that this usually happens when men get into a buying mood. Their more optimistic spirit seems to be reflected in their choice of fabrics. In bad times men seem to prefer the more sombre hues, but as their spirits brighten up with the better times, so do the clothes they buy. Incidentally, Canadian men on the whole are among the best-dressed men in the world; they do not need to take a back seat to the men of any other country," Mr. Talbot said.

"The clothing business," he said, "is one of the most sensitive of all to general conditions. During the depression most men restricted their clothing requirements to their most drastic needs. But that seems to be

S. K. ARNOTT past history. Men are buying clothes more liberally and our business in every part of the country shows tremendous increase.

"We of Tip Top Tailors," continued Mr. Talbot, "think that our business is a pretty accurate barometer of the times. As the largest tailoring manufacturers in the British Empire, we are pretty closely in touch with the buying habits of men from coast to coast. At the present time, for example, at the great Tip Top factory in Toronto, we are carrying a million dollars worth of woollens received from leading mills in Great Britain, and we will need every yard of it and more during the next few months. Our plant is an extremely busy place, with 1,400 people employed under ideal conditions. Union labor is employed at union wages."

Mr. Talbot had encouraging things to say about conditions as he noted them in the west. On his present trip he has noticed manifold evidence of improved conditions and he feels there is reason for real optimism so far as business generally in the west is concerned.

S. K. Arnott, account executive with McConnell, Baxter & Eastman, advertising agency, Toronto, is accompanying Mr. Talbot on his western trip.

GIRL OF SEVEN KILLED IN CRASH

Cardston, Alta., April 20.—Sheila Neilson, seven, was killed almost instantly when the automobile in which she was riding overturned on a highway four miles south of here yesterday evening. The car, driven by her father, Ora C. Neilson of Cardston, rolled over three times and the little girl was found pinned beneath the machine. Cause of the accident was not ascertained.

The other occupants, her mother and father, two small sisters and her grandfather, escaped injury. An inquest will be held.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE
As long as the Irish potato is at its best, the typical American home regards it as a dinner necessity. But when old potatoes become scarce and of poor quality and new potatoes are too high in price to justify daily use, then dried beans, peas, lentils, hominy, macaroni, spaghetti, noodles and rice have their day.

When you plan a meal in which rice, a paste-food or some other potato substitute is to be used, bear in mind that potatoes do a great deal more than merely furnish starch in the diet. They add minerals which tend to balance the acidity of the dinner meat, but rice, which yields an acid ash, tends to increase the acid content of the meal. Consequently, when rice, macaroni or any paste food takes the place of potatoes, serve other foods known to be rich in mineral constituents—beets, carrots, celery, radishes and lettuce.

LEGUMES COUNTERACT ACID
Dried beans and peas, on the other hand, are good sources of mineral constituents and tend to produce alkalinity when digested and assimilated by the body. Served in combination with other foods, they may also figure as the main dish.

There are many varieties of dried beans that are more delicately flavored than the "navy" bean usually called to mind when beans are mentioned. Dried lima beans, marrowfat, red kidney beans, dolicho, yellow eye, cranberry and black, each have a distinctive flavor.

Spring greens are particularly suitable to serve with beans. The combination makes an inexpensive, satisfying and well-balanced meal for spring days, dandelion greens with a garnish of hard cooked egg, soy with baked lima beans.

Too many home-makers make the mistake of thinking that any food which is a good source of starch can take the place of potatoes in the diet with the same result. The caloric value may be the same but the mineral balance will be far from true.

BEAN SOUP
Two cups dry lima beans, 1½ cups canned tomatoes, 1 pimiento, 4 whole cloves, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 small onion, 2 tablespoons butter.

Pick over beans, wash and let stand overnight in water to more than cover. Drain off water. Put on to cook in cold water with onion, cloves and pimiento. Cook until tender and add tomatoes, salt, sugar and butter. Bring to the boiling point and cook fifteen minutes longer. Rub through a coarse sieve. Reheat and serve with toast sticks made of whole wheat bread.

TOMORROW'S MENU
Breakfast: Shredded pineapple, cereal cooked with dates, cream, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
Luncheon: Cheese fondue, creamed asparagus, rye bread, strawberry preserves, milk, tea.
Dinner: Lima bean soup, broiled pork chops, dandelion greens, beet and cabbage salad, butterscotch pudding, milk, coffee.

MANY ENTRIES AT NANAIMO

Ninth Annual Up-island Musical Festival Opens on Wednesday

Nanaimo, April 20.—Three hundred and fifty-four entries, comprising 1,350 people, will compete in the ninth annual Up-island Musical Festival here April 22-25.

The opening of the festival on Wednesday brings to fruition plans of the executive committee, composed of Dr. R. E. Forester, president; Mayor J. Barby, vice-president; R. T. Cowen, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Hugh Anderson, corresponding secretary. The advisory committee to the executive is composed of D. B. Arnett, J. Clements, Mrs. Madge Grey, J. Edge Partington, C. H. Stockwell, F. Partitt, Mrs. F. Cunliffe, Mrs. Barby, Mrs. John Dick and Andrew Dunsmore.

Harold Gregson, organist and choir-master of Trinity Church, Santa Barbara, formerly of the Royal College of Music, London, and director of the Emma Willard Conservatory of Music, Troy, N.Y., will be the adjudicator for the vocal and instrumental classes and elocution. Mrs. Lena Cotworth Clark of Vancouver will adjudicate the folk-dancing classes.

NEW DEPARTURES

Several departures have been made this year by the executive. The Rose Bowl competition will be open to winners of open vocal solo classes of this and previous Up-island Musical Festivals. Previously the class was open only to winners in previous festivals.

Classes for folk songs, another departure, are proving most popular. These classes include English, Scottish, Irish and Welsh songs. A cup is given for competition in each section.

Classes have been opened this year for light opera ensembles, comprised of any voices, not more than twelve, unaccompanied. A campfire music class of not more than fifteen voices, singing a selection chosen by the competition, in harmony or in parts, is also to prove attractive.

Those chosen to assist the executive in the management of the festival: Miss Pauline Edge of Partington, director of competitions; Mrs. Andrew Johnston, convener of platform stewards; Miss Edith Fairhurst, adjudicator of solo; Miss A. Dunsmore, Miss Vera Cornish, Miss May Parke, Miss Eileen McKillan, Miss Winnifred Edge Partington, Miss Vera Robinson and Mrs. Alan Catt, platform stewards. Dr. R. E. Forester, assisted by members of the Nanaimo Rotary Club, is in charge of ticket sales, and Mr. and Mrs. Carter have charge of certificates.

Duce Demands Nearly All Ethiopia

face, which is not interested in its observance? This protocol concerns the inhabitants of every great city of the world."

Mr. Eden raised his voice as he spoke, continuing:

"It is for them a charter against extermination. If a convention such as this can be torn up, will not our peoples, whether living in the thronged cities of western Europe or the less densely crowded areas elsewhere, ask with reason: What is the value of any international instrument to which our representatives put their names?"

CONFIDENCE SHAKEN

"How can we have confidence that our own folk, despite all the solemnly signed protocols, will not be burned, blinded and done to death in agony hereafter?"

"These questions every member of the Council must put to himself today."

"As far as His Majesty's government is concerned, so deeply do we feel the danger of leaving unnoted the alleged use of poison gas that I would ask the Council, during its present session, formally to recall to all members of the League and to the signatories of the 1925 protocol the obligations they have thereby undertaken."

QUESTION OF SANCTIONS

Referring to the failure of conciliation efforts and the sanctions at present in effect against Italy, Mr. Eden said Great Britain was ready to continue its support of the League in applying additional economic and financial measures if such should be deemed necessary.

The Foreign Secretary declared Great Britain still looked to the League of Nations for peace and said: "Let me state without equivocation that His Majesty's government of the United Kingdom maintains its confidence in the League as the best instrument at present available to mankind for the preservation of international peace."

The British remarks on poison gas were supported by representatives of Portugal, Denmark and Turkey.

Representatives of Chile, Ecuador and Roumania urged new efforts to end the war by conciliation.

Joseph Paul-Boncour, French Minister of State, pleaded for the continuance of conciliation efforts "until they are crowned with success."

Said the French representative: "We need peace in Ethiopia in order to meet any threat to peace in Europe. We need peace in Ethiopia so that Italy may participate in the work of European reconstruction."

Vladimir Potemkin, Vice-Commissioner for Foreign Affairs of Russia, said friends of the League "note with anguish the growing tendency among members of the League to treat an aggression with tolerance—indeed, the more arrogant an aggressor is the more noticeable the tendency to treat him tolerantly."

"The most dangerous is the fact that all this is happening at a time when there is the most imperative need to unite all efforts to prevent the catastrophe with which all mankind is threatened."

Senor de Madariaga of Spain presented his report as chairman of the Conciliation Committee of Thirteen, showing the collapse of peace efforts through the disagreement of Italy, demanding "direct negotiations," and Ethiopia, insisting on negotiations within the League.

PRICE OF PEACE

Premier Mussolini, officially and frankly showing his hand, demanded virtually all Ethiopia for Italy as the price of East-African peace after the Council had received the report on the failure of conciliation.

Through Baron Aloisi Di Duca declared any armistice must provide for assurance against the danger of any new Ethiopian mobilization and against any rearmament of Emperor Haile Selassie's domain.

Baron Aloisi asserted, "to put it otherwise, this means an armistice must assure occupation of all centres of mobilization, including the capital itself and frontier points through which arms may be delivered to Ethiopia."

"In other words, it means practically occupation of enemy territory in its entirety."

ITALIANS BLAME ETHIOPIA

Senor de Madariaga, who had been the delegation of responsibility for the collapse of conciliation, reported to the Council by Senor de Madariaga. "Responsibility for the failure can in no wise be laid at the door of my government," said Baron Aloisi.

He asserted no government had given such proof of goodwill toward the League as the Italian Government, "which has remained in the League, even after that denial of justice, which Italy has complained."

Baron Aloisi said: "It would be understood the Italian Government is attached to its own principles and that it will maintain these principles, but I repeat that Italy does not refuse to discuss peace."

Premier Mussolini's Geneva spokesman defended point by point Di Duca's plan for bringing peace to East Africa by direct negotiations between the belligerents, negotiations under Geneva and suspension of hostilities only after establishment of conciliation preliminaries.

WOULD BAR LEAGUE

He said in absence of any direct interest on application of the League, which was judged necessary by Italy as being the most practical and the most efficacious method. He insisted this constituted no rejection of the spirit of the League covenant.

"It is Italy from the start which insisted on application of the covenant. Not only certain articles," Baron Aloisi declared.

"Italy especially demands not only the letter of the covenant, but its spirit, which can have no significance unless it shows living comprehension of history, which is not a static thing but a dynamic functioning of human civilization."

The Ethiopian delegate, Woldemariam, in a brief reply, declared "Ethiopia fully maintains its previous position" that peace negotiations must be conducted through the League, and in the spirit of the covenant, recognizing Ethiopia's sovereignty.

The Council, after receiving the conciliation committee's report and hearing the Italian and Ethiopian addresses in a morning session, adjourned until 3 p.m.

RESOLUTION DRAFTED

Meeting privately after the first public session, the councilors drew up a resolution expressing regret information Italy furnished to the Committee of Thirteen concerning acceptance of the League peace appeal had hindered the conciliation efforts.

The draft of the resolution, to be presented for adoption by the Council, said: "We regret that under these circumstances, a cessation of hostilities has not been realized and the war continues under conditions which have been declared by the fifty-two members of the League to be a violation of the covenant."

It added: "We address to Italy a supreme appeal, so that in the existing circumstances, which require the collaboration of all nations to safeguard peace, Italy may bring to a solution her conflict with Ethiopia in the spirit of the League, which one has the right to expect from a country which helped to found the League and is a permanent member of the Council."

The proposed resolution concluded by confirming that the anti-poison gas convention of 1925 was obligatory on both belligerents, who are signatories to the convention.

It. Hon. Stanley M. Bruce, of Australia, presided over the first public session of the Council this morning.

DEATH TOLL OF CRASH SIX

One Car North of Seattle Said to Have Speeded at Eighty Miles an Hour

Everett, Wash., April 20.—Ferry Pool, twenty, of Benton, died early today, bringing to six the toll of deaths from an automobile collision on the Seattle-Everett highway Saturday evening.

Pool, who had been in a critical condition since the crash, passed away at a hospital. Prosecutor A. W. Swanson ordered three other youthful survivors, also all in the hospital, held for investigation.

Five of the victims, all of Everett, died in the flaming wreckage of one of the cars.

The dead: Cecilia Hanson, seventy-three.

Mrs. Ella Sharples, forty-three, her daughter.

Carl M. Hanson, Mrs. Hanson's son.

Mrs. Matilda Anderson, seventy.

Miss Clara Anderson, thirty-four, her daughter.

Swanson said he would question survivors and others regarding the statement of witness that the car driven by Frank E. Gates, twenty, was going eighty miles an hour before it struck the Hanson car.

BURNED IN CAR

Both machines burned, five dying when they were unable to get out of one of the cars.

The accident occurred about eleven miles north of the Seattle city limits. Gates, who suffered minor cuts, said he did not see the other machine until it was a few yards distant.

Authorities believe Hanson drove the other car.

Those riding with Gates, besides Pool, his cousin, were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hyatt of Angle Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Don Western, South Park, and Miss Frances Heber, fifteen, Pool's companion.

With the exception of Pool, occupants of Gates's machine suffered only minor cuts and abrasions.

R.C.M.P. Corporal And Wife Found Shot

all of the Vancouver force, rushed to the scene.

Entering the room, the officers found the body of Mrs. Whiteman lying on the floor near the foot of a bed, at the east end of the room. A bullet from a heavy revolver had passed through the right side of her head and had made its exit on the left side.

The body of Whiteman, with the head snuggled into the curve of his wife's neck, also lay on the floor. In his case, also, a bullet had entered the right side of the head.

Beside the man's head was a .45 calibre revolver, its cylinder containing three loaded and three discharged cartridges. Later investigation showed the weapon was his service issue.

BULLETS FOUND

On the floor not far from the feet of the dead woman the investigators picked up a spent bullet. Another was located lodged in the west wall of the room. A third bullet was found in the mattress of the bed. This bullet had apparently been fired in a downward direction. It was located near the foot of the mattress.

From the positions of the bodies it has been deduced that after shooting the woman, the man leaned down, kissed her and then shot himself.

There were no signs of a struggle having occurred in the room. Furniture was in its accustomed positions and the bed had not been disturbed.

MARRIED IN FEBRUARY

The detectives learned the couple had been married in Bellingham, Wash., on February 9, 1936, and that the corporal had failed to apply to his superior officers for permission to marry.

Mrs. Whiteman, who was a divorcee before her marriage, was employed at Homer Gowen, 509 Granville Street, and had maintained her residence in the lodging house at 690 Bute Street after the marriage, Whiteman living with his comrades in the R.C.M.P. barracks at Shaughnessy.

When off duty and in plain clothes, the officer was a frequent visitor at the Bute Street house.

At 7 o'clock Sunday evening he arrived there and found his wife was having supper in the dining-room of the house on the basement floor and went to the room to await her coming.

Another guest of the house brought him a cup of coffee while he was waiting.

A short time later Mrs. Whiteman was seen to go to the room.

RADIO WAS LOUD

Other tenants of the house heard the radio blaring out a popular air programme from the room shortly after 8:30 p.m. and at 8:45 p.m. Billy McIntyre, six, who lives with his parents in a suite a short distance from the room, called out that he had heard shooting. His mother, who answered his call, failed to hear anything and soothed the lad, who was alarmed by the noise he heard.

Miss Eunice Cook, another guest in the house, told officers she had heard a shot and set the time as 9:30 p.m.

It is thought the extremely loud blaring of the radio may have masked the sounds of the shots so they were not detected by others on the premises.

The radio was still on when the officers entered the room, but no programme was coming in. It is believed that overheating of the radio caused the programme to die out.

DISCOVERY OF BODY

At 8:30, Sunday morning, Miss Doby, whose room door immediately adjoins that which was occupied by Mrs. Whiteman, decided to visit the woman, with whom she had been friendly for some time. She tried the door and on finding it unlocked walked in and was horrified to see the two bodies on the floor. She did not recognize the body of the husband, but realizing her friend had been murdered rushed downstairs and notified others of the tragedy and the police were called at once.

After taking photographs and measurements and notifying R.C.M.P. officials, the Vancouver police removed the bodies to the city morgue pending a coroner's inquest.

INQUIRY IS MADE

The detectives then set about an investigation as to a motive for the shooting, hinting it was the result of jealousy on the part of the man. It being suggested, through inquiries made, that the woman had been in communication with her former husband and this had led to trouble between the man and woman.

Under the regulations of the R.C.M.P. Whiteman's service revolver should have been left in the barracks armory when he was off duty and in civilian clothes as he was Saturday evening. The fact that he took the weapon with him would indicate premeditation, police say.

The exact ages of Mr. and Mrs. Whiteman have not yet been definitely ascertained by the city police, but both were in their early thirties.

Corporal Whiteman was a valued member of the R.C.M.P. and had long service with that law enforcement body and was to have taken his examination for the rank of sergeant in the near future.

LIVED IN VICTORIA

Mrs. Whiteman was born in England and came to Canada in 1914. She resided in Victoria for more than twenty years. Recently she was divorced from her first husband.

Mrs. Whiteman is survived by her mother, Mrs. L. Ward, of 615 Belton Street, Victoria; a sister and four brothers.

Mrs. Whiteman was a resident of Victoria for twenty-three years. She came to this city as a girl of twelve and moved to Vancouver a year and a half ago, later being married to Corporal Whiteman.

She was well known as a salesgirl with various firms in Victoria and during her life here she took an active part in badminton.

She is survived by her mother and two brothers, Harry and Lawrence, all of Victoria; a brother, George, in Saskatoon; a brother, T. C. Ward, in San Jose, and one sister, Mrs. S. V. Vaherese, of Victoria.

Corporal Whiteman served with the uniformed force of the R.C.M.P. at Esquimalt Barracks for seven months in 1934 and 1935.

As the members gathered today it was said the remaining business might keep them busy till July.

The bulk of government legislation has been brought down, but some additional measures have yet to make their appearance. Including bills respecting the establishment of parliamentary secretariats, amendments to the Criminal Code, Customs Act amendments concerning the proposed $100 exemption on goods brought back by Canadian visitors from the United States and such measures as may arise from reports of the various House committees.

PREMIER BUSY

Prime Minister King was the only minister who failed to take an Easter vacation trip. He remained at his home here and devoted his time to study of the various problems facing the government. He is expected to take a brief holiday soon.

Finance Minister Dunning returned last Friday much rested and refreshed by his holiday and prepared to grapple with the twin problems facing him at the moment, the budget and the question of Dominion-provincial financial relations. The budget is not expected until the first week in May.

NATIVES FLEE ADDIS ABABA

The great general meeting would be similar to that which marked the beginning of the Italo-Ethiopian war and an authoritative source indicated the new mobilization would mark the entrance of Italian troops into Addis Ababa.

The new mobilization is to be centred around a mass meeting in Venesia Square in front of Premier Mussolini's office. If Duce will appear, the signal for the mobilization will be given by sirens, bells and wireless throughout the country.

Orders have been given soldiers to return to their barracks when they hear the signals. Sailors on shore leave will return to their ships and aviators will go to their flying fields.

All members of the Fascist Party will gather at their respective local headquarters.

HARAR BATTLE

Italy's southern army closed in on the powerful forces of Ras, Haile Selassie, defending Harar, second city of Ethiopia. Fascist sources said today, after a four-day battle, 16,000 natives on the Somali front.

A march of more than sixty-two miles by Gen. Rodolfo Graziani's troops, advised from Mogadiscio, Italian Somaliland reported, culminated in a four-day battle last week near Bircut in which the natives abandoned about 1,000 dead.

The left wing of Graziani's army drove on from Bircut, an important caravan centre, the Mogadiscio dispatches said, a step nearer coming to grips with Ras Haile Selassie's troops.

Rescuers Near Men in Nova Scotia Mine

"Are you going to blast?" they asked from the depths.

"No."

"Are you trying to send in some food through the hole?"

"Yes. Undo the pipe."

"Does the phone come through the same pipe as the food?"

"Yes."

"If you are going to get us out in two or three hours you do want us to come to the pipe?"

Apparently the men have great difficulty in moving, especially to the diamond drill hole reaching the 141-foot level, and are unwilling with rescue appearing imminent to move even to procure food.

WATER HEARD

The swirl of water was heard distinctly through the tiny voice machine.

The microphone transmitter sent down the diamond drill hole was the sign of a penknife.

Word that the youngest member of the trapped trio, R. R. Magill, Toronto barrister, had succumbed to exposure reached the surface at 2:15 o'clock this morning. At that time Mr. Scadding called up the communication line that Magill was dead.

Mr. Magill was part owner of the mine with Dr. Robertson. They and others recently bought the mine, which had not been worked for many years.

The dazed workers of the underground, coming to the surface for air and rest, estimated, in feet at noon today how far they were from the 141-foot level of the mine where Dr. Robertson and Mr. Scadding were awaiting rescue.

In four-hour shifts the men were scooping out the unmapped, unpropped shaft. Some insisted on staying below all the time. They formed a human chain, passing debris scooped out by four trained leaders from hand to hand. They had to set supports as they advanced.

Moose River, N.S., April 20.—Ladders were mentioned for the first time today by Dr. D. E. Robertson and Alfred Scadding, indicating they had found a haven in a niche above the 141-foot level of the Moose River Gold Mine, where they had been entombed for eight days.

Attempts to induce the men to leave their shelter and go to the end of a diamond drill hole in the flooding level so they could procure food were unsuccessful.

BACK TO TORONTO

Moose River, N.S., April 20 (Canadian Press).—Mrs. Herman R. Magill was informed today of the death of her husband after a week's imprisonment in the Moose River Gold Mine, and sadly prepared to leave for Halifax on her return to Toronto.

Mr. Magill was part owner of the mine with Dr. Robertson. They and others recently bought the mine, which had not been worked for many years.

Gray Supports Refunding Plan

$72,000,000 debt of that city at no more than a per cent for twenty-five years.

Victoria will meet its bond dealers this week to discuss the matter from a preliminary standpoint.

Mr. Gray in the last two years has put legislation into the House to ratify refunding schemes for Prince Rupert, Port Moody and Port Coquitlam. Each plan was drafted according to the ability of the municipality in question to pay. The minister explained that this is the essential principle on which the schemes should be laid out.

In these cases a majority of the bondholders agreed to the refunding plans after negotiation. Legislation was then passed ratifying the schemes and forcing the remainder of the bondholders to accept.

As a step toward tax reduction and relief of property from the heavy fixed charges which are forcing reductions and a drop in values, interest reduction is regarded as essential by Mr. Gray. While the government is planning a measure of assistance to municipalities in the fall, he pointed out this would only benefit the bondholders, not the taxpayers, unless independent steps to cut interest were taken by the municipal authorities.

Against the Popular Front the groups of the centre and right are generally more fluid and so far have not been able effectively to link forces. Their fronts appear to disappear, leaving little more than name.

ELIMINATE VOTE

The Popular Front aims to reveal its hand in the second ballot on May 3. To secure election on the first ballot a candidate must secure: 1. An absolute majority of the total votes cast. 2. A poll equal to at least one-fourth of the total number of electors registered.

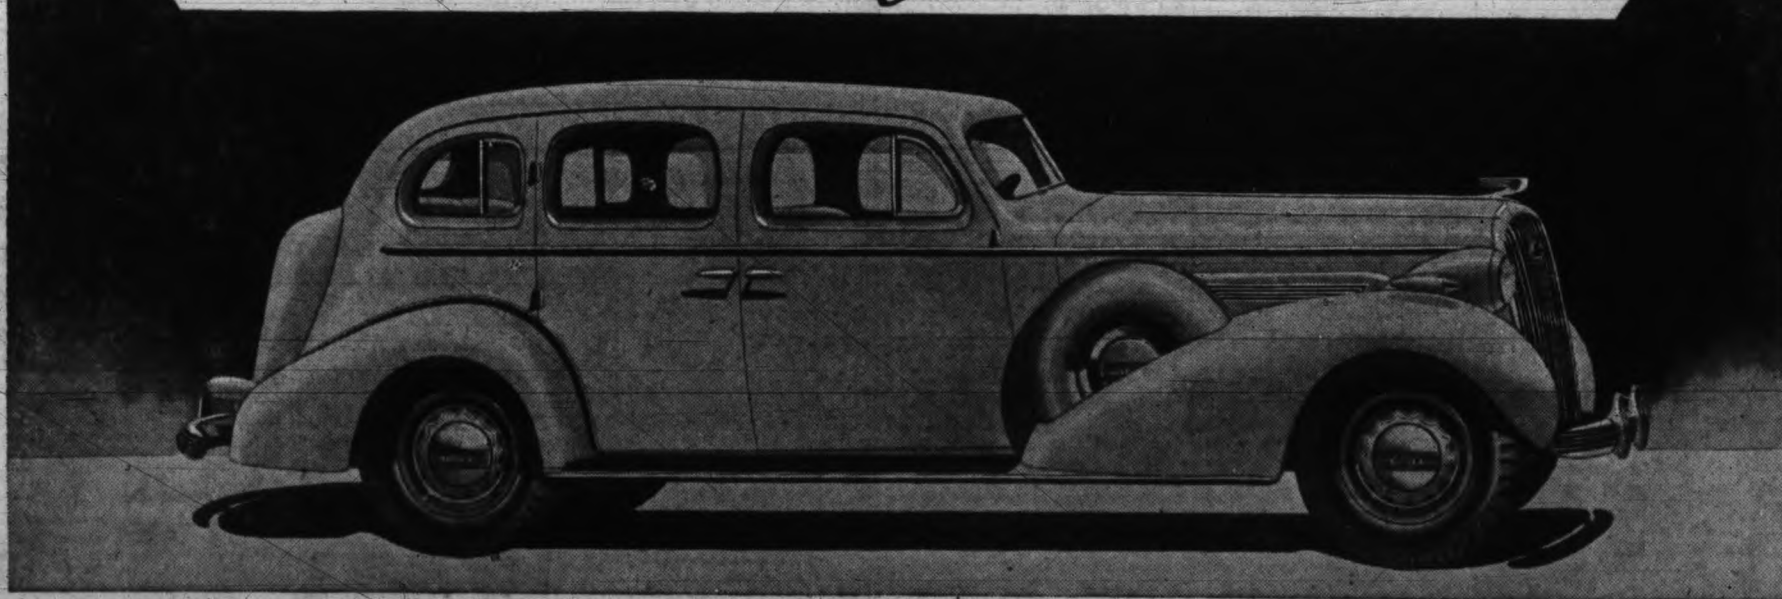

After the first poll the break candidates will disappear. The fight will come down to the old parties and groups. And the arrangement between the parties in the Popular Front is that the candidate who polled low in the first ballot will retire in favor of the left wing candidate who polled highest. The test is to be acceptance of the Popular Front programme. Thus in the switch of votes—Communist, Socialist or Radical—the popular front hopes to secure control of the next Parliament.

PATTULLO IN OTTAWA TODAY

Ottawa, April 20.—Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia arrived here today to resume financial discussions with Finance Minister Dunning. Mr. Pattullo, who made the journey by air through the United States, had not visited the Finance Department at a late hour this afternoon.

Consistently Beautiful... standard of comparison

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK

IN the mature beauty of the new McLAUGHLIN-BUICK you see more than the perfect rounding out of the current mode—you can see the culmination of twenty-eight years of automotive artistry. . . . Over the years—through this and that craze for extremes, McLAUGHLIN-BUICK has never wavered from the thin, straight line of good taste and consistent development. . . . Moreover, in striving for the beautiful in automotive design, McLAUGHLIN-BUICK has never forgotten that a motor car body should be practical as well—spacious—solidly built—properly ventilated. And in these directions, the famous Fisher Bodies with their Fisher No-Draft Ventilation have never been equalled. . . . McLAUGHLIN-BUICK is known as "standard of comparison" because it has proved itself consistently in line with what motorists expect a fine car to be . . . in tasteful beauty as much as in the fundamental progress demonstrated today by its matchless Knee-Action gliding ride, more powerful Valve-in-Head engines, refined Torque Tube drive, Tiptoe Hydraulic Brakes, and automatic starting. The next hostesses will be the Misses Celia and Mary Gorst.

Of much interest to the bride-elect's many friends in Victoria is the announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Harry R. Fullerton of Vancouver of the engagement of their youngest daughter, Marion Dean (Molly), to Mr. John Frederick Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kelly. The wedding will be solemnized at Ryerson United Church, on Saturday, May 2. Miss Fullerton has chosen as her attendant her sister, Mrs. John Sturdy of Victoria as matron of honor, and Miss Eleanor Crossman as her bridesmaid. Mr. Kenneth Richardson will serve the groom and the officiating minister will be Rev. George W. Dean.

In honor of Miss Gwen Winsby, whose wedding will take place shortly, Miss Rana Fleming entertained at the tea-hour yesterday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Fleming, Oak Bay Avenue. About thirty guests were present. On Friday evening, Miss Winsby was the guest of honor when the Misses Margaret and Lillian Gowen and Miss Rana Fleming entertained at their home on Transvaal Road. Brides in a flat white gown, lighted by ivory tapers in white holders, formed the pretty centerpiece for the supper table.

Parties for the younger social set are popular features of the holiday season. On Saturday afternoon Miss Jane Holland entertained at tea on Saturday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Holland, Armit Street, Esquimalt. In honor of Miss May Hodgkinson, whose wedding will take place this week, Mrs. M. E. Sargent and the Misses Ruby and B. Williamson entertained at a cup and saucer shower on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Sargent, Tyndal Avenue, Gordon Head. The gifts were concealed in a large cup and saucer fashioned of green and yellow crepe paper, while the same colors were used in the floral decorations throughout the home. The supper table was attractively centred with a miniature bride and attendants. Bridge formed the evening's amusement for the guests, who included Miss May Hodgkinson, Mrs. A. Hodgkinson, Mrs. J. Hooking, Mrs. E. Bentley, Mrs. A. Belth, Mrs. N. Grant, Mrs. J. Redmond, Mrs. F. Glenrose, Mrs. A. E. Sargent and the Misses Norma Hocking and Ruby and B. Williamson.

The members of Far West Assembly No. 36, Canadian Daughters League, held a delightful Easter tea at the home of the president, Mrs. F. Briers, 57 Cambridge Street, recently. The tea table was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a silver basket of spring flowers flanked on either side by mauve tapers in silver holders. Mrs. A. Haines and Mrs. C. Cottle, past presidents of the assembly, presided over the tea table and were each presented with a lovely corsage bouquet of rosebuds. During the afternoon Mrs. F. Noel delighted the guests with vocal solos and was accompanied by Miss S. Conway. Both were the recipients of dainty corsage bouquets. The Misses Viola Wain, Rita Hall, Marilyn Hunter and Shirley Noel, pupils of Gwen Dalby, added greatly to the enjoyment of the afternoon by their clever dance numbers all in appropriate costumes. Assisting in serving were the Mesdames Val Dalby, Don Smith and Ken Richmond. Among the guests present were Mesdames C. Creech, R. D. Smith, R. Taylor, H. Pickers, A. Chadwick, W. Blair, P. ## THREE GENERATIONS

Greedy, P. A. Holm, Misses Jean Bass, S. Conway, Viola Wain, R. Hall, M. Hunter, S. Noel, G. Richmond, G. Perry, L. Stewart, M. Briers, P. Smith and G. Smith. The committee responsible for the enjoyable afternoon was composed of Mesdames Briers, L. B. Noel and J. Dinsley.

The many guests at the tea-hour at the Empress Hotel on Saturday enjoyed a musical treat when Miss Geneva Lent of Calgary, who with her husband is staying at the hotel, generously accepted the request of the management to sing. She has a beautiful mezzo-soprano voice, which was heard to perfection in "The Meaning of a Rose" (Bealy), "The Year at the Spring" (Beach), "Indian Love Call" (Friml), "Hills of Home" (Fox), "A Birthday" (Woodman) and "Silent Strings" (Bantock). Mr. Malcolm More accompanied her at the piano. Yesterday evening Miss Lent again gave an informal programme at the hotel, to the delight of the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Peters, Esquimalt, left yesterday morning on a motor trip to California, and will spend several weeks in the south.

SHEEN POLISH NOW FEATURED

Practically fifteen years have elapsed since the introduction of Sheen Furniture Polish, an all-Victoria manufactured product made by Harold Simpson, placing on the market a really greaseless medium for polishing woodwork. Since the first inception of the locally-made product in 1924 it has become increasingly popular every year.

Since that time the firm has introduced "Jet," the hot stove polish, and "Simpson's Floor Wax," made from specially imported waxes. An all-Victoria enterprise, the establishment serves to swell local payrolls and proves the worth of Victoria-made products.

All local grocery and hardware firms are co-operating with the firm of Harold Simpson in featuring Sheen Furniture Polish and Simpson's Floor Wax during the Spring Cleaning Season, making an offer of exceptional value.

Makes Mother Feel Old Body Poisons Slow Her Up

MUMMY, YOU NEVER SHOW ME ANY PICTURES ANY MORE.

OH, I GET TIRED SO EASILY. HEADACHES BOTHER ME DAY AFTER DAY... I FEEL SO OLD. I WISH I KNEW WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT.

MOTHER, you can do something about it. In all probability your trouble is caused by constipation. Even slight cases of constipation set up poisons in the body. Here's a simple suggestion... start eating Post's Bran Flakes With Other Parts of Wheat, a mild laxative, yet effective. Called by many the most delicious cereal they know. Constipation due to insufficient roughage in the diet should yield to Post's Bran Flakes eaten regularly. Always consult a physician for stubborn cases.

St. Martin's Girls Gave Concert

A very successful concert was held in St. Martin's Parish Hall, Obed Avenue, on Thursday evening, given by the Girls' W.A. A varied and entertaining programme was presented and enjoyed by a large audience. Canon H. W. G. Stocken gave a short address of welcome.

The concert opened with a piano solo by Phyllis Fox; a playlet, "The Visitor," in costume, with Betty Clegg as grandmother in an old-fashioned dress and powdered hair, and Muriel Rogers dressed as the modern girl of today; a tap dance by Kay Marling and Sadie Jamieson was encored. The dancers were assisted by a chorus of four girls, Gladys Foursacre, Muriel Rogers, Vivian Fox and Vera Knight. A "fashion parade" of hats and gowns dating back to the "gay nineties" was very amusing; a solo by Miss Althea Stocken, "Dawn"; a pirate song by the whole cast in full costume was very much enjoyed; a piano solo by May Jamieson was followed by a recitation by Vivian Fox, "The Lost Umbrella."

An Easter play, "Go Tell," was splendidly given by the following: Sadie Jamieson as Primrose; Gwen Foursacre, Aurora; Kay Marling, a Japanese girl; Betty Clegg, an African girl; Phyllis Fox, an Australian girl, and Vivian Fox, an Indian girl.

A bouquet of spring flowers was presented to Miss Stocken, the leader of the girls, for her untiring efforts, on their behalf, also to Mrs. J. C. Newberry, who was responsible for the splendid costumes, and to May Jamieson, the president of the Girls' W.A.

Canon Stocken, on behalf of the audience, thanked the girls for their splendid work in making the evening a success.

BURSARY TEA IS SUCCESS

L'Alliance Francaise Fund Benefits By Affair at Mrs. J. H. Gillespies

The bursary tea arranged by L'Alliance Francaise and held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Gillespie, "Windhaugh," on Saturday afternoon was a very successful affair. The proceeds of L'Alliance Francaise and interested friends, and the bursary fund will benefit materially from Saturday's proceeds of the tea.

Mrs. Gillespie received her many guests, assisted by Mrs. M. Little, acting president of L'Alliance, and Mrs. E. Hamilton Smith and Miss Dorothy Kennedy were treasurers for the afternoon. Tea was served in the dining-room and sun-room, under the convenship of Mrs. Baker, Mrs. T. B. Inglis, Mrs. Bannerman-Campbell, and assisting were the Misses Margaret Little, Yolande Langworthy, Victoria Ebbes-Cavanah, Mrs. Howard M. Archibald, president of L'Alliance, was welcomed on her return to Victoria after a year's absence. The table was decorated with a low bowl of water-lilies and spring flowers were used throughout the rooms with delightful effect.

A musical programme enhanced the pleasure of the afternoon. Dr. Gustavus Preiswerk's string Quintette was heard in Mozart's Quintette No. 4, the members comprising the quintette being Dr. Preiswerk, first violin; Herbert Botten, cello; L. Jordan, first violin; Reg Hammond and John Finn, second violins. A cello solo "Bourree," Handel, and "Traumer" were also played by Herbert Botten, accompanied by Miss Sheila Conway, and "Tarentelle" by Popper. Leslie Jordan played a Negro spiritual as a violin solo, with Mrs. Gillespie at the piano. Miss Sheila Conway sang "Elegie" with cello obligato by H. Botten; Miss Ethel James, self-accompanied, contributed an eighteenth century folk song, "Maman, Dites-moi"; and Sheila Conway, accompanied by Miss Marjorie Pringle, sang two delightful songs by Rinaldo Hahn, "Mi Mes Vex" and "Dune Prison." Miss Eleanor Walker, accompanied by Sheila Conway, sang the French-Canadian folk song, "Au Pile, Veux-tu un Bouquet" with which she won the Charles Marchand Cup presented by L'Alliance Francaise for competition in the Folk Song classes at the Musical Festival.

A hand-woven scarf by Miss Nona Bjornfels and a dressed doll were competed for, and the winners were Miss J. Williams, Pemberton Road, the scarf; and Mrs. Rutledge, the doll.

BAPTIST Y.P.U. TO SHOW FILMS

Sponsored by the Provincial
B.Y.P.U. Council and the city
B.Y.P.U. Association, educational motion pictures depicting the beauties of British Columbia and Alaska will be shown on the screen in the school room of the Emmanuel Baptist Church, corner Fernwood Road, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

A new three-reel film, "Alaskan Interlude," never before shown publicly in Victoria, has been secured and, according to reports, should prove to be an outstanding attraction. A collection will be taken.

TO ADJUDICATE AT FESTIVAL

MISS NELLIE CORNISH

Many receptions are being arranged in honor of Miss Nellie Cornish, founder-director of the Cornish School, Seattle, who will adjudicate at the Provincial Drama Festival, April 27 to May 2, inclusive.

Miss Cornish established the first laboratory school of the theatre in America, and with the co-operation of Maurice Browne and Ellen van Volkenburg, the theatre suddenly came into prominence because of its practical production.

Under her direction Miss Cornish has had such people as the Brownes, John Merrick, now register of the National Opera at Strassburg, Moroni O'Neil, now an important motion picture star; Borgna Hammer, one of Norway's famous actors; Herbert Gallender, well-known New York director. Miss Cornish has worked constantly during these years with Ellen van Volkenburg, and Alexander Koiranaky, who is director of the Cornish Theatre.

Miss Cornish is familiar with many methods of producing, including the much-talked-of Russian method. She has spent the past two months in New York City, where she attended the principal plays, and also had the privilege of watching rehearsals, seeing previews, etc. She describes herself not as an actress or director, but as an expert audience.

WON PRIZES IN SATURDAY'S DOG SHOW

Jean and Flore Bay of 1135 Empress Avenue won the prizes as the best-dressed couple at the children's dog show held at the Shrine Auditorium on Saturday. They are shown above in their colorful Mexican costumes, accompanied by their Cocker spaniels, Jean is ten and Flore is twelve years old.

Recent Weddings

OAKMAN—ZALA

Emmanuel Baptist Church, beautifully decorated with daffodils, iris and fern, was filled with an interested congregation of friends of the principals for the wedding on Saturday evening of Annie Mabel, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T.
Zala, 2206 Lydia Street, and Mr.
James F. Oakman, eldest son of Mr.
and Mrs. E. R. Oakman, 2385 Eppworth Road.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Imrie performed the ceremony. The choir was in attendance and sang the hymn "O Perfect Love," and as the register was being signed Mr. Frank Tupman sang the solo "O My Love" (Burling). Miss Winifred Scowcroft, church organist, played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was an attractive picture in her floor-length frock of white silk crepe, with a yoke and girdle of silver, and full silk sleeves extending to tight cuffs, which came to a point over the hands. Her embroidered veil was shirred into a stiff frill at the back of her head, and was confined to the nape of her neck with a strand of orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

There were three bridesmaids.
Miss Evelyn Zala, sister of the bride, and Miss Ella Mitchell, who substituted for the bride's other sister, Miss Grace Zala, who was unable to attend owing to illness, and Miss Ellen Oakman, young sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Evelyn Zala wore a frock of forget-me-not blue georgette with a standup collar of gold, and a bodice shirred into a yoke with long full sleeves, and carried a sheaf of daffodils, and Miss Ella Mitchell a gown of buttercup yellow, and carried a bouquet of blue lilies. They both wore bandeaus of flowers in their hair. The junior bridesmaid was dressed in yellow net and carried a colonial bouquet of cream and blue hyanthins.

Mr. Edgar Oakman was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Victor and Arthur Zala and Mr. William Miles.

RECEPTION HELD
Daffodils and greenery were arranged in the home of the bride's parents, for the reception which followed the service, when the guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Zala, assisted by the bridegroom's sister,
Mrs. R. J. Mason, of Duncan. Mrs.
Oakman being unable to be present owing to illness. Mrs. Zala wore a gown of Dresden blue and a grey hat, and Mrs. Mason was in a gown of flowered silk, with hat to tone.
Shoulder sprays of pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley completing their costumes.

The three-tiered wedding cake, handsomely decorated by Mr. Frank Baines, and embedded in folds of green and yellow tulle, centred the upper table, flanked with tall yellow tapers in green candelabra.

BURNETT—MCGREGOR

A quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. E. F. Church at the Metropolitan United manse on Saturday evening between Rita, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mc-Gregor, 1235 Styles Street, and Mr.
David Burnett, son of Mr. and Mrs.
D. Burnett, George Road, in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a becoming frock of silk crepe in the new dusty pink shade, with a slight train, the square neck being finished with a cluster of silver flowers at the throat. Her halo-hat of pale pink lace was trimmed with silver flowers, and she wore lace mittens and silver slippers, and a bouquet of pink snapdragons and blue lilies. Mr. Milton Dayton supported the groom.

The color scheme of pink was repeated in the floral decorations at the home, where the reception was held. On the supper table, the three-tiered cake, set in folds of pink tulle, was flanked by silver vases filled with pink carnations.

Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Burnett received the guests, both dressed in navy blue, with corsage bouquets of pink carnations.

After a honeymoon on the mainland, for which the bride wore a powder blue costume with grey accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett will live in Victoria.

Among the many gifts received by the young couple was an electric coffee percolator from the bridegroom's associates on the staff of William N. O'Neill (Victoria) Co. Ltd., and a tray of flat silver from the bride's fellow-employees in the general office at David Spencer's.

TAYLOR—LONG

The marriage took place here of Miss Lillian Long, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John Long of Christchurch,
New Zealand, and Frank Trafford Taylor, E.C., of Winnipeg. Miss Long arrived here Friday night aboard the Niagara.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will reside in Winnipeg.

LAND, FOR WHICH THE BRIDE LEFT IN A SMART OUTFIT OF VINTAGE RED, WITH GREY ACCESSORIES, MR. AND MRS. OAK- MAN WILL RESIDE AT 1419 HAULIN STREET.

Among the lovely gifts were a silver flower basket from the choir of Emmanuel Baptist Church, of which the bride and groom are both members; a silver rose-bowl from the choir of Metropolitan United Church, with which the groom also sings, and a framed picture from the bride's associates in the Young Women's Mission Circle of Emmanuel Church, a handsome bookcase from the bridegroom's fellow-employees in the Hudson's Bay Company and a cheque from Mr. Frank Baines of Lillie's Confectionery, where the bride has been employed.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. Victor Zala of Galiano Island, and Mr. and Mrs.
R. J. Mason of Duncan.

LLOYD—YOUNG—COCKFIELD
Vancouver, April 20—Saturday evening at 8 o'clock the marriage of Lois Cecilia, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Cockfield, to Mr.
Eric Lloyd-Young, second son of Mr.
and Mrs. H. Lloyd-Young, of Victoria, was solemnized by Rev. J. P. Gordon before a host of friends and officials at the home of the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. William Cockfield.
Miss Lillian Fletcher was the bridal attendant, the groom being supported by Mr. Robert de L. Harwood.

Given in marriage by her father,
the bride chose to wear an imported gown of coral crepe slightly en train, fashioned on long lines, the neckline being gracefully draped. A small black stitched tulle hat featured a brief veil. Her corsage bouquet was composed of waxen white gardenias.
The bridesmaid was modestly gowned in turquoise blue chiffon in the Grecian mode with silver accessories, her hat matching the dress in tone and a pink rose corsage contrasting charmingly with the blue of the gown.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which Mrs. William Cockfield, wearing a gown of black silk with shoulder spray of Parma violet and lily of the valley, Mrs. H.
Lloyd-Young in white chiffon imprinted with marine blue conventional figures, navy straw hat with small veil and corsage of violets and Mrs. H. W. Cockfield, mother of the bride, in a black crepe formal with being gracefully draped. A small diamond clip, black hat with veil and white gardenia trim, with corsage of violets, received with the bride and groom.

The buffet table, covered with a Mexican draw-work cloth, was centered with pink and white rosebuds surrounded by white tapers in silver scones, the bride's table being centered with a four-tiered wedding cake embedded in tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd-Young left for the south by motor, where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride donning a grey tailored coat with

In aid of their funds, members of the Alumnae-Association of St. Anne's Academy will hold a bridge party and tea in the private lounge at David Spencer's on Saturday of this week.
Those not desiring to play bridge will be welcomed at the tea hour.

Reservations are now being received by members of the special committee, who are Miss Kathleen Nesbitt, Miss Catherine Murray and Miss Margaret Brandon.

Would Extend Efforts For Cancer Prevention

Dr. B. J. Harrison Suggests Government-aided Cen- tral Cancer Institute in Address to Nurses; Early Treatment Urged

A plea for government assistance in establishing a central cancer institute and the extension of effort towards the prevention of malignant disease was made by Dr. B. J. Harrison of Vancouver in an interesting address before the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia on Saturday afternoon. The meeting was held in St. Joseph's Hospital nurses' home, Miss G. M.
Fry, the president, presiding.

EARLY TREATMENT URGED
Taking as his subject "Malignant Disease from the point of view of the registered nurse," Dr. Harrison emphasized that 150,000 persons are dying each year from this disease a fact that could not be lightly regarded. If all the present known forces were brought into action in an attempt to combat this state of affairs, the figures would show no appreciable decrease, he continued, but if patients were attended to at earlier stages in the development of the disease, the decrease in the death rate would be very marked.

The setting of stricter standards would be beneficial to the profession, he added, in following up his point regarding overcrowding.

The broadening of training for nurses in order to embrace the field of social work in general, and training in mental hygiene and psychiatry, communicable diseases and the public health field, would, the speaker thought, provide the "open door" in the nursing profession, and the more the nurse was equipped with training in fundamentals, the better would be her opportunities for wider development in her chosen career.

Miss Cooke and Miss Herbert expressed the appreciation of the members of the association to Dr. Harrison for his address.

A short business session followed,
at the conclusion of which members of St. Joseph's Alumnae served refreshments.

Y.W.C.A. APRIL FAIR FRIDAY

Two-day Function Offers Varied Entertainment

A most ambitious programme has been arranged for the two-day April Fair which the Y.W.C.A. will hold on Friday and Saturday of this week at the institution, under the patronage of Mrs. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Mrs.
T. D. Postville, Mrs. T. A. Blackard, Mrs. H. Anson, Mrs. S. J. Willis
and Mrs. David Leeming.

At the opening on Friday afternoon at 3.45 o'clock, Mrs. H. M. Cassidy, president of the association, with members of the executive as hostesses will receive the guests for tea.

Miss Doreen Wilson will sing and Japanese dancers, directed by Marjorie Kuwata, will give several dance numbers and will later assist in the blossom tea-room.

Entries of interesting handicrafts and novelties are being received for the exhibit, also curries from other countries.

With a pleasing background of beautiful drapes and rugs the display of period and modern textiles include rich silks, damasks, brocades, velvets, tapestries and printed linens.

"The Legend of Light" is the story told in the marionette show on Saturday afternoon, and Frank Merry-field, with his programme of magic, mirth and mystery, will hold the audience spellbound. Several costume dances will be presented by the Russian Ballet School.

"Aunt Abigail Speaks," a one-act play by club members, is the chief feature of the evening programme.
Other items include dramatic readings, fancy dances and campfire scenes.

Rowe Pitches Second Shutout As Detroit Tigers Beat Chicago

THE SPORTS MIRROR

CREW INTEREST, swinging to the Pacific Northwest on Saturday with the Huskies racing California's Golden Bears on Lake Washington, diverted some attention to the local rowing front.

This year, the pioneer Victoria rowing club, the James Bay Athletic Association, will step out in a new eight-oared shell. The addition of this major piece of equipment to the J.B.A.A. store should be a big factor in increasing the ranks of those who wish to develop prowess with a sweep. The local club comes into ownership of its own big boat shortly and has already proved its right to recognition as the home of an eight by very commendable showings in borrowed craft here, in Vancouver, Seattle and Portland.

Sunday mornings find the boys who sport the blue and white colors of the rowing club down at the floats preparing for a big season. They have conditioned several of their boats and may be expected to provide very stiff opposition for their usual rivals in Vancouver, as well as other outside points, when the season is a little further advanced.

Australia's Davis Cup tennis team is scheduled to give an exhibition in Vancouver this week. The players passed through here on their way from "down under" to Vancouver, but they had little inducement to show their wares before Victoria eyes, although it would be reasonable to believe they would like to take the stiffness out of their arms with a show here.

Dr. E. W. Boak, local Canadian and Pacific Northwest figure in the tennis world, did not pass up the thought of asking them to play exhibition games between the Toronto, Maple Leafs and the Chicago Blackhawks on April 25, 27, 29 and May 1. The hockey fire still burns bright in the breasts of this city's public—so very bright, in fact, that an ambitious promoter might well consider the establishment of a rink here without very grave fears over its financial success.

There will be a large contingent of Victorians journeying to Vancouver at the end of the month to take in one or more of the exhibition hockey games between the Toronto, Maple Leafs and the Chicago Blackhawks on April 25, 27, 29 and May 1. The hockey fire still burns bright in the breasts of this city's public—so very bright, in fact, that an ambitious promoter might well consider the establishment of a rink here without very grave fears over its financial success.

There appears no limit to the development of fancy diving. Men who performed so-called difficult stunts less than ten years ago would find themselves almost entirely in the backwash today if they were to step out against the present crop. That statement excludes Pete Desjardins, 1928 Olympic winner, who is still performing as a professional. A recent moving picture reel, shown locally, indicated the fact that former impossibilities in the diving sphere will probably be commonplace in a short time. The performer in the picture executed, from a height apparently equal to that of the standard tower, a twisting one and one-half front somersault. A few years ago a man who tried any type of twist from a tower was regarded as fit material for an asylum.

Back to Dick Matthews, of the Lethbridge Herald, the doubting Thomas who thought the Dominos flunked through to win the first game in the Western Canada basketball play-offs. Dick, who apparently is ready to admit his mistakes, riddles a different tune in comment following the second and deciding game. Here's his rhapsody: "Congratulations, Dominos! Hard lines, Jacks!"

"I don't think there is any argument as to whether the better team is proceeding into the Western Canada basketball final against Winnipeg Tolars. Dominos proved they had what it takes in the pinches and came through a tough struggle with a great display. The Victoria club had its block and screening plays working nicely in the last encounter and some of their plays into the net were beautifully executed.

The most potent factor in the

KLEIN LEADS CUBS TO WIN; BROWNS LOSE

Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox Force 1935 Winners to Spurt

Schumaker Hits Stride For Win

By ANDY CLARKE Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians and the Boston Red Sox are showing a total disregard for the prediction of experts that Detroit is destined to repeat its triumphant march of last year.

Six days along the way, each with four games won and one lost, these teams are providing definite grounds for the contention that a rocky road beckons the mighty men of Cochrane. The Red Sox haven't had to use a relief hurler yet and Bob Grove and Wes Ferrell have started off in a manner to make rival managers wrinkle their brows. The Indians haven't needed good pitching thus far for the batsmen have settled issues on pure offensive power.

The speedy progress of these two teams in the American League and the Giants in the National yesterday awoke the respective champions to their responsibilities. Detroit barged into the win column with Scholboy Rowe pitching a 5 to 0 shutout over the Chicago White Sox, while the Chicago Cubs, with Chuck Klein belting out a brace of homers, collected sixteen hits for a 16 to 6 victory over the Cincinnati Reds.

Rowe allowed the White Sox only five hits as he scored his second shutout of the season. Billy Herman, who led the league in two-baggers last season, hit his sixth double in as many games this year as the Cubs came to life after taking two lickings from the Reds.

The Philadelphia Athletics made a surprising stand against the Red Sox, even though they did go down 2 to 1 in their fifth straight defeat. The Indians continued their slaughter of pitchers by sending the St. Louis Browns to their fifth straight defeat 13 to 6.

Hal Schumaker, who was yanked in the opening game against the Dodgers, found the victory trail against the Boston Bees as the New York Giants notched their fifth straight win 4 to 1. He held the Bees to four hits.

CARDS WIN

The St. Louis Cards defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 7 to 3, as a pair of favorites made dismal showings.

Bill Dickey paced the New York Yanks to a 9 to 7 victory over the Washington Senators, getting Homer, a double and two walks. Roy Johnson rapped a homer in the second.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, with rangy Van Mungo pitching six-hit ball, chalked up their second win of the season over the Phillies 2 to 1.

Raymond downfall, however, had to do with themselves. If Jacks were in the free throw department in Monday's game they were terrible in the second. Out of twenty-two opportunities, they made only five count. Dominos had only sixteen chances, but they made nine of them good. I've seen Raymond teams play over a good stretch of years and I never saw such a poor exhibition of foul tossing.

"At the same time, the Sugar City quint need not be ashamed of the manner in which they performed against the widely ballyhooed B.C. outfit. A little more strength at putting their gratis heaves could quite easily have changed the course of both games.

Royals, North Shore And Nationals Win

Canadian Press Vancouver, April 20.—New Westminster Royals, Johnston's Nationals and North Shore United all emerged the victors Saturday in the three soccer tilts which opened the newly-formed Mainland League.

Although held to one goal in the first half by Royals, North Shore completely outplayed their opponents in the second half to bang in four goals and win 5 to 1. Johnston's Nationals drove in two goals in the second half to defeat Vancouver Liberals, 2 to 0.

The other game saw the Royals overcome a one-goal deficit by scoring twice in the second half to beat St. Saviours, 2 to 1.

DOUG PEDEN HIGH SCORER

Lanky Guard Leads the Dominos in Marksmanship After Raymond Series

By PETE SALLAWAY (By Mail)

En Route to Winnipeg.—Scoring honors for the two-game series between the Victoria Dominos and Raymond Union Jacks were lifted by Doug Peden, dashing guard of the coast champions, who dropped through twenty points, seven in the opening clash and thirteen in the second hectic battle. Peden nosed out his teammate Art Chapman by a lone point. The big center grabbed off eight points in the opener and eleven in the second game.

Third place in the aggregate scoring went to Porky Andrews, right forward of the Dominos, with eighteen points, nine in each game. Fourth position was divided between two of the Jacks. Donny Nilsson, centre, and W. Van Orman, left forward, with fifteen points apiece.

Nilsson got only three points in the first game but came back strong with twelve in the second. Van Orman was responsible for eight and seven. Dean Baildon, veteran guard and skipper of the Alberta champs, was next with a total of thirteen.

In field goals the Dominos managed to nose out the Jacks by a single basket, thirty-two to thirty-one. The Victoria club got eleven in the first game and twenty-one in the second as compared with twelve and nineteen for their opponents.

It was in the free shots column that the Dominos bested their rivals by a tremendous margin. The Canadian champions potted nineteen out of thirty-six for a better than fifty per cent average, while the Jacks made only nine out of thirty-eight for less than a twenty-five per cent average.

The Dominos had thirty-four personal fouls called on them, sixteen and eighteen, and the Jacks had only twenty-eight, fifteen and thirteen. In total points the Dominos outscored the squad from the sugar beet town 83 to 71.

Members of the Dominos came out of their opening engagement in pretty good shape. In a check-up it was found that Red Martin had suffered a slight sprain in his other ankle but it was not expected to cause any great trouble. His left foot weathered the second game in great style and the big forward said he was all set for the series against the Tolars.

Porky Andrews got bumped pretty hard in the second game and was not his usual self but a few days' rest will see him in the pink again. Otis Goldsmith's sprained ankle was coming along nicely and he will be ready to take his place again on the line-up at Winnipeg.

W. Donahue, Noted Horseman, Passes Canadian Press Toronto, April 20.—William Donahue, well-known trainer and horseman, died here yesterday after a long illness. He was about seventy-two years old.

Donahue raced horses throughout Canada and the United States and was trainer of the Giddings Stable when Hearts of Oak and Beehive won the King's Plate.

He was one of the first to go to Winnipeg, and it was in that city he interested A. G. Tarn, prominent turfman, in the racing game.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

France and Germany, traditional enemies among the world powers, were once united under a single kingdom—that of Charlemagne. The first war between them was fought while brothers ruled them, and for more than 1,000 years since that time the relations between France and Germany have been antagonistic.

After the death of Charlemagne, the great empire that he ruled disintegrated. Louis the Pious, nominal ruler, divided the actual rule among his three sons—Lothair, Pippin and Louis. A fourth son, Charles, born of a later marriage, was also given a share. This resulted in internal friction among the royal princes, and soon the war was on, brother against brother.

Louis and Charles allied themselves against their brother Lothair and the great "Battle of the Brothers" in which 100,000 men are said to have perished, was fought. The result of it was the Treaty of Verdun in 843 which was the birth of Germany and France out of the kingdom of Charlemagne. Pippin was ignored, and Louis was given what is now Germany. Lothair took Italy and other areas, while Charles was given the rest of Gaul, the area that is now France.

Burgundy, Lorraine and Provence were areas not well defined in the treaty—and they were destined to be in the centuries that followed. The scene of countless battles between Germany and France.

By PETE SALLAWAY With the Dominos—En Route to Winnipeg (By Mail)—Stetson hats and beards a la House of David. That is the best way to describe the Victoria Dominos basketball team. While in Lethbridge, several of the boys scouted around and arrived at the train wearing ten-gallon hats. Porky Andrews and Alex McKeachie secured black ones with Mexican chin straps and look real smart.

Shortly after their appearance Art Chapman loomed in sight bedecked in a huge, light-grey Stetson that had the boys in a panic.

It made him look about seven feet tall and coupled with his black beard gave him the look of a real tough guy.

Paul Jenkins, manager of the Krege store at Lethbridge, plans to secure several more Stetsons and send them on to Winnipeg for the remainder of the party.

UPLANDS WINS A TEAM MATCH

Take Lead in First Division Straith Cup Play; Colwood B Team Leads

The Uplands Golf Club A team went eleven points up on Colwood—A squad yesterday when they met in the first round of the Straith Cup competition at the Uplands course.

The B team competition, however, saw the Colwood representatives take a twenty-three point lead on the Uplands golfers, when they met at Colwood.

Playing on the Uplands course, the home A team defeated the invaders 12 to 8 in the fourball matches and 13½ to 6½ in the singles.

The Colwood B team was more successful than the A men, when they went twenty-three points up by defeating Uplands 11½ to 8½ on the Colwood course. Colwood finished the singles, leading 13½ to 6½, and the fourball 15 to 2.

Two such competitions are held during the year, with the second and final to be played later on. The club with the biggest grand aggregate score will annex the trophy. Uplands won the cup last year.

Win Eastern Canadian Championship With 33 to 23 Win Over Ottawa Rangers in Third Game; to Meet Western Champs

Canadian Press Ottawa, April 20.—Crowned eastern Canadian senior basketball champions, Windsor Fords, one of the smartest quintettes seen here in action, today looked forward to premier Dominion honors.

They defeated Ottawa Rangers 33 to 23 in the third game Saturday of the best of three series and left immediately for home where they await the winners of the Winnipeg-Victoria series for the Dominion title.

In hurdling the final obstacle in eastern Canada, Fords established themselves as a team of tremendous recuperative power and indomitable courage. They came here for the series opener last Thursday and dropped the first start as they were a badly tired lot following the long train ride. At half time they built up a substantial lead but wilted towards the end, losing 32 to 28.

STAVED OFF DRIVE
Rangers tried desperately to end the series in two straight when the teams met again the following night but they ran into an aggregation that had a day's rest behind them and the Rangers emerged on the short end of a 32 to 26 count.

The visitors' most potent weapon was a quick-shifting, short-passing attack that kept the ball in motion most of the time and kept the home forces bewildered. "Keep moving," was their slogan and they only resorted to dribbling when they were dead in their rival's zone.

When at times Rangers put on a rallying spurt, Windsor immediately countered with a quick passing display at mid-floor until its forces were reorganized.

RANGERS TAKE LEAD
Ottawa got away to a good start when Budge Crawley got the first basket of the game from close in and was soon leading 8 to 3, after "Wank" Usher, tall guard, and Louis Bonenfant, leading scorer of the Ottawa quintette, sank field goals on long shots. Windsor took time out, but conceded three more points as play resumed.

"Red" Wiseman, who with ten points was high scorer of the game, scored on his second free throw, and then Windsor started to mount up its score. When half time was called Fords were leading 10 to 9.

Soon after the second half got under way, Rangers lost the services of Usher, aggressive guard, who incurred four personal fouls and their chances received a decided setback. Even at that little Bonenfant had the score tied up for a few seconds when his shot from centre counted.

Julius Goldstein, professor of technology at Goldstein University, then drilled through close for another field goal, and Fords rapidly began to draw away until the closing stages of the game. They had a fourteen-point lead when the score stood at 33 to 17. Ottawa got its remaining points on four free shots and a field goal.

THREE DEATH

APPEALS OPEN

Only Four Justices Sit, Mr.

Justice McPhillips Too Ill to Attend Court

With four of the five justices sitting, the appeal hearing of the three George brothers, Indians, from the death sentences imposed upon them by Chief Justice

Morrison for the killing of Police Constable Gishbourne at the Canford Reserve, opened in the Court of Appeal here today.

When the case was called, Stuart

Henderson, counsel with Henry

Castellous for the Indians, arose and drew attention to the absence of Mr.

Justice McPhillips, who, it had been expected, was to have sat to make the full court on the case.

Mr. Henderson said he thought the case so important that it should have the advantage of the full court.

Chief Justice Macdonald said it was understood that Mr. Justice

McPhillips was not in a condition to come down to sit on the bench.

Mr. Justice Martin said that physicians had advised Mr. Justice

McPhillips that he could not sit and the justice had decided to accept the advice of his physicians.

When Mr. Henderson suggested an adjournment of the case on the responsibility of Mr. Justice

McPhillips being available later, the chief justice said there could be no further delay in the case.

ORDERED TO PROCEED.

"You order me to go on, then?"

Mr. Henderson asked.

"Yes," said the chief justice.

Attorney-General Sloan appeared in person in charge of the Crown's case for the sustaining of the death sentence against the three men. With him was J. R. Nicholson, who had taken part as counsel in the lower court trial.

The hearing is expected to last a couple of weeks.

"The position of this case is very much affected and changed as a result of all the evidence before the court now," Mr. Henderson said, referring to what had been brought out at the second trial. "My submission to this court is that the evidence is such as to render the verdict of the jury reversed and such that the accused must be discharged."

SHOULD HAVE TOLD

Mr. Henderson raised the question whether Section 40 of the Criminal

FOREST NIGHT
TRIED ORDANO

Worse Experience Than Trip on "Finner," He Says

"The trip across the Straits on my 'finner' was really nothing compared to the night I spent in the woods. It was that night that took it out of me," said William Ordano, Victoria adventurer who returned home yesterday morning aboard the ss. Inroquois after crossing the Straits to Fort Angeles, on Wednesday.

Ordano exhibited cut and bruised legs and arms and blistered finger tips to prove his words. He said he was forced to crawl through heavy underbrush and thicket, and several times was completely baffled. "I was very, very scared, too, I'll admit," he said. "When I lived in Port Angeles some years ago I was told there were plenty of brown bears in these woods, and several times during that night I thought I heard them."

"I was so scared I almost climbed a tree for the night. The next day I met a logger and he said it was a wonder I wasn't eaten up. He said it would have been much better if I had climbed a tree."

DID NOT SLEEP
"I never slept a wink all night," Ordano continued. "I was too scared. I walked around and tried to get out of the woods and sat for a while on a log. As soon as it was daylight I started to walk to Port Angeles." Mr. Ordano was asked why he did not stay on the beach at Freshwater Bay, where he landed. He said he had noticed a house high up on the cliff, and he wanted to reach it, and put in a phone call to Port Angeles. But the house was farther away than he anticipated, and he was unable to locate it, because of the density of the woods. He had to climb a high cliff from the beach to the woods and got cut and scratched doing so.

WAS WATER-LOGGED
Never once did Ordano doubt the staunchness of his home-made "finner," even when it became water-logged about half a mile past Race Rocks. This made the going extremely difficult, for he had to "fin" along a lot of water as well.

"I had to throw away the mat on which I was lying," he said. "I'm sure it contained about thirty pounds of water. But I had no hammer to take out the nails and they kept sticking into me, but I was doing about half a mile an hour against the tide-rips and I did not worry. You couldn't pull that 'finner' apart, and I knew it all the time. The tide-rips did not bother me much. They are not nearly as bad as the rips near Catalina Island."

PLAYED MOUTH ORGAN
Ordano cheered himself up occasionally by playing his mouth organ, which he later lost in the woods. He took a rest of about twenty minutes and played some of his own compositions and some favorites of his as "The Old Spinning Wheel" and "Lale of Cyprus."

NEVER FELT COLD
Ordano said he never felt the cold when on his craft, although he became pretty wet. His hands were continually in the water, but because he kept them moving they did not become cold. His wrists became stiff with the continual exercise, however. He had on swimming trunks and a sweat-shirt. He took along other clothing, into which he changed before walking into Port Angeles.

He gave credit for his "wonderful endurance" to the fact that he did not drink and did not smoke. Residents of Port Angeles treated him most hospitably, Ordano said. They entertained him royally and gave him a good time and helped him ship his "finner" back to Victoria.

He now wants to return to California and "fin" his way between the mainland and Catalina Island. Before this, however, he hopes to make a trip from Victoria to Vancouver during the Golden Jubilee of the mainland city.

BALDWIN'S TEAM WINS BOWLS CUP

Carpet bowling members of Britannia branch of the Canadian Legion on Saturday night brought to a conclusion a successful season of play, when R. Baldwin's team triumphed over H. Pearson's team in the final of the Cassidy Cup competition, by 20 to 14, after a keenly contested game.

When play was finished Comrade E. C. Payne, first vice-president of the branch, introduced the donor of the trophy, Comrade J. Cassidy, who then presented the trophy to the skip of the winning team and individual silver cups to members of the winning team. He expressed gratification at the great interest shown in the competition, and congratulated the winners and the others on the sportsmanship shown.

During the season concluded Britannia Club competitions were won by R. Baldwin in singles, and the doubles by W. Roberts and A. Goodman. In the Victoria Carpet Bowling League, Britannia had six teams entered, and the Bruins were runners-up in B section for league champions. Britannia Royals won the Hiscup Challenge Cup in the annual tournament staged by the league.

Members and friends are asked to register for the informal summer competitions.

JAMES ERNEST HUNTER
The funeral of James Ernest Hunter, who passed away April 15, took place Saturday afternoon. Rev. E. M. Willis officiating. The service was largely attended by relatives and friends and the beautiful flowers given by the family and friends were a beautiful tribute to the deceased. Mr. Hunter, the congregational hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Peace Perfect Peace." William McDonald and J. W. Youson sang a duet "There is Life Beyond the Sunset." The following acted as pallbearers: A. Craven, H. Austin, B. E. Sterling, I. E. Barr, A. S. Daniels and R. McKenzie. The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

FANNY MARIA CARTER
At the Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday morning Fanny Maria Carter, widow of the late William H. Carter, passed away. Mrs. Carter was born in New Chappell, Staffordshire, England, and had been a resident of this city for the last twenty years. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. T. Milne, 2568 Vancouver Street, with whom she resided; one son, Walter Carter of Vancouver; one brother in Liverpool, England, and one sister in Anneton, Alabama, U.S.A. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon from McCall's Brothers' Funeral Home at 2 o'clock. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick will conduct the service, after which interment will be in the family plot in Royal Oak Burial Park.

RAYMOND E. BENTLEY
There passed away after a short illness this morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Raymond Ernest Bentley, aged thirteen years, and a native son. There survive his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bentley, and three brothers, Raymond, Valentin and Owen Newton, and Ronald Charles, all at the family residence, 1653 Pembroke Street; his grandmother, Mrs. E. Olcott, Otter Point; four uncles, Bert Richardson, Arthur Richardson, Harry Bentley and Major Fred Richardson, of this city, and

SEATTLE TEAM
WINS DEBATECase For Capital Punishment Supported in Contest With Junior Chamber

Taking the affirmative in a debate on the motion "Resolved, That Capital Punishment is Desirable," the Teamsters' Club of Seattle on Saturday night defeated the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce team by a narrow margin.

Uniformly excellent argument was one of the features of the debate, and new interest was given to the contest by the introduction of cross-examination.

James A. Smith, Squire Johnson and Dr. R. E. Allen represented the Puget Sound city, with Trustee P. E. George, Leslie Osborne and Conway Parrott speaking for Victoria.

The judges were J. B. Clearhugh, James McGrath and Frank Paulding. Herbert Anson was chairman, and the time was kept by John Baxter.

LOW BRITISH CRIME RATE
In opening the debate for the affirmative, Mr. Smith said in the low crime rate of the British nations an indication of the effectiveness of capital punishment in conjunction with proper law enforcement. In one year, he said, Great Britain had executed twenty-four out of twenty-five convicted murderers.

He claimed reigns of terror had followed all cases of the abolition of capital punishment in various states of the union. Mr. Parrott, opening the negative's case, said that as a humanitarian he could not condone capital punishment. He termed it "a blot on civilization." The committing of a foul deed did not justify the perpetration by the state of an equally foul deed. In imposing the death sentence the state was stooping to the level of the criminal. Capital punishment, he said, was a relic of barbarism.

LESS CRUEL THAN JAIL
Mr. Johnson took the stand that the death sentence was just retaliation for murder, not murder itself. Life imprisonment was more cruel than death, and the prisons were schools in crime. There was no hope of reforming a murderer by committing him to jail. It was the duty of the state to protect its citizens from further crime.

Revenge was apt justice, said Mr. Osborne in his argument for the negative. Capital punishment could only be classified as revenge. He felt only pity for those who believed in such crude retaliation. Mr. Osborne quoted the warden of Sing Sing prison in his case against capital punishment.

IMPERSONAL VENGEANCE
It was the right of the state to take the vengeance out of the hands of the individual and punish the criminal in his behalf, said Dr. Allen, for the affirmative. The right of personal vengeance could only be superseded by the impersonal vengeance of the state. Dr. Allen, who quoted from five years' experience on the San Quentin prison staff, contended that opposition to capital punishment was sheer sentimentalism.

Trustee George, for the negative, said capital punishment was futile as well as immoral, and quoted history in support of his argument. It was the sureness of the enforcement of punishment, not the fact of the death sentence, which was the surest deterrent to crime. He believed that this fact would make a substitute even more effective than death, because juries would be less hesitant over enforcing it.

DARDANELLESB.C. Electric to Spend $10-000 on Repairs to Track
Line on Fort Street

Much-needed repairs to the surfacing of Fort Street through the Dardanelles is to be undertaken within three weeks by the B.C. Electric Railway Company according to an announcement this morning from E. N. Horsey, president engineer of the company.

The work will include rehabilitation of the track and repairs to abutments with the renewal of rails on the curves. The road will be repaired from Harrison Street to Oak Bay junction.

When completed the work will be similar to that completed on Fort Street between Cook and Blanshard Streets last year.

The total cost of the undertaking is estimated at around $10,000 and owing to the heavy volume of traffic through this narrow section crews will be kept at work both day and night.

All preliminary plans for the work have been made and crews are ready to start the work as soon as the company officials give the word.

NEW OFFER FOR INDIGENT CAREMedical Society Accepts
$850 a Month Rate Proffered
By Relief Committee

The offer of the health and relief committee to pay the Victoria Medical Society a flat rate of $850 a month for care of indigents has been accepted by the doctors, according to word received by the committee.

The committee offered $850 in lieu of the original $1,000 a month rate originally proposed by the medical men.

Ratification of this agreement will be among the more important items to come before the City Council this evening for consideration.

The council will also have before it a resolution sponsored by Alderman Walter Luney to reduce the City Council personnel from ten to six members, with a mayor. A separate resolution suggests election of the mayor for a two-year term. If the council and the resolutions the plan will go before the electorate for approval.

The part of Louise, Aubrey's wife, will be played by Betty Heathington. In the part of Auntie Ben, a rather deaf and elderly spinster, Mrs. A. E. Harris will be seen. As Jean, a young lady who mistakes three different men for her husband, Peggy Josephs gives a most amusing and convincing portrayal.

Spurles, the butler, and Simpson, the maid, played by H. J. Davis and Mrs. A. Long, are real parts and on them a lot of the comedy action depends. Mr. Chesterton, the lawyer who comes to tell Aubrey and Louise about "The Tons of Money," is admirably portrayed by A. Long.

In Act III two new characters are introduced, Henry, the butler's brother, who is disguised as George Matland, and Matland himself, who turns up unexpectedly from Mexico to claim the money. These important roles are well filled by A. F. Dawe and C. A. Gubbard. Leo Marston, as a comic gardener, who is always doing the wrong thing, rounds out an exceptionally competent and well-balanced cast.

IS VICTIM OF GUN ACCIDENT

John Milne, younger son of the late W. T. Milne of Pritchard, B.C., died on Friday, the victim of a gun accident at Kamloops. While cleaning his gun with a twenty-two bullet in it on April 14, the firearm exploded and caused injuries from which he failed to recover.

The funeral will be held at Kamloops today at 2.30 o'clock.

The deceased was a relative of the Milne family at Milne's Landing, Sooke.

Committees For Year Named

Music Teachers Hear Interesting Talk By Mrs. J. O. Cameron

Committees for the year were appointed by the Victoria branch of the B.C. Music Teachers' Federation at its monthly meeting on Saturday evening at the Y.W.C.A. when it had as its guest Mrs. J. O. Cameron.

Those appointed as committees for the year were: Finance, Marion Roberts, Oliver Stout, Dorothy Francis; publicity, C. Boulter, Mrs. McGovern, George J. Dyke; entertainment, Mrs. W. A. Jameson, Mrs. McGovern, Oliver Stout; programme, C. Boulter, Geraldine Harper, Beatrice Griffiths; halls and management, Oliver Stout, Marion Roberts, Mrs. McGovern.

Refreshments were served.

The reports by the secretary, Nora Sherwood, and the treasurer, Marion Roberts, showed much activity during the past few weeks. Its chief feature under its auspices being the morning lectures and evening recital by Harold Samuel, both events proving financial successes.

President Reginald Cox presided, and in the departure of Mrs. Paget-Mellor for London, with her two daughters of recent musical honors, he said the federation would lose a valued and active member. The vice-president, Mrs. Marion McGovern, on behalf of the members, then presented her with a token of their esteem, and George J. Dyke some musical books for her two daughters.

Two forthcoming important events in the calendar of the federation were the Interprovincial Music Teachers' Association at Vancouver from July 15, 16, 17 to 18, and the annual meeting of the B.C. Music Teachers' Federation at Victoria on July 6.

Mrs. J. O. Cameron in her informal talk gave some informative personal observations of recent musical events in London and to some musical centres on the continent of Europe.

These were emphasized by the many annotated programmes, music criticisms and photographs, proving later in the evening a delightful musical inspection to those present.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy are now at the Capitol Theatre. Their new feature is "Rose Marie," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer his-of-the-year, directed by W. S. Van Dyke and produced by Hunt Stromberg.

In it are heard such timeless music as the haunting "Indian Love Call," the sighing "Rose Marie, I Love You," the lullaby "Pardon My Past," the stirring "Song of the Mounties," the thrilling "Totem Pole Dance"—all the Herbert Stothart-Rudolf Friml score, sung as only Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy can sing it.

"THE CRUSADES" AT PLAYHOUSE

De Mille's Film of Historical Struggle Opens Today

History's greatest struggle, in which all the nations of Europe banded together for an inspired and unselfish cause, is the subject of Cecil B. De Mille's latest spectacular drama, for Paramount, "The Crusades," which opens today at the Playhouse Theatre.

Harold Lamb, who wrote such books as "The Crusades," "Flame of Islam," "Iron Men and Saints," "Genghis Khan" and "Tamerlane," wrote the script for the DeMille picture.

"The Crusades," in which great and low, young and old, gladly gave their lives for an ideal, brought chivalry to its height and shaped, by supreme effort and sacrifice, the beginnings of the modern world.

"Cleopatra" At The Columbia

Hollywood again stole the march on the style world, recently, with the introduction and widespread adoption of Egyptian styles based on the trend inaugurated by Cecil B. De Mille's "Cleopatra," featuring Claudette Colbert, Warren Williams and Henry Wilcoxon, and coming today to the Columbia Theatre.

The credit for transforming two thousand year old styles so that they could be adapted to the dressing requirements of the modern woman, goes to Travis Banton, nationally known motion picture style expert, who designed all the garments worn by Claudette Colbert in the title role of the film, as well as those used by the other female principals.

"The most natural phase of this movement is the leaning toward alluring, draped and clinging garments," says Banton. "Egyptian and Roman women evolved this sort of silhouette to absolute perfection and the modern woman of fashion recognizes this fact."

W. Leonard Howe To Appear Here

W. Leonard Howe seems to have crowded a lifetime of work into a very few years. As an actor he has many times visited Canada in support of the late J. H. Stoddard, Marjorie Anglin and Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson. As a manager he produced "Alibi Button," the famous English comedy; the all-star production of "The Bohemian Girl" and the silent version of "The Man They Could Not Hang," the striking true story of an English lad who three times escaped death to live until another had confessed to the crime for which he had almost lost his life.

He has just been appearing in the new Canadian movies made in Toronto by Booth Canadian Films Ltd. He will shortly appear at the Columbia Theatre in person.

"King of Damned" To Open Tomorrow

A full-blooded, strong-and-fast melodrama entitled "King of the Damned," which comes tomorrow to the Dominion Theatre for a three-day run, revealing not only that the GB studio can turn a robust play into fine film fare, but that they did so with sincerity, punch and drama.

Conrad Veidt, Helen Vinson and Noah Beery head the cast.

Conrad Veidt acquires himself brilliantly in the difficult role of a crafty and sullen convict who has been seething within for thirteen years against the brutal treatment and harsh villainy of the tropic penal camp. His interpretation of a convict "king" who, through clever tactics and subtle wiles, leads a revolt against the authorities, stands out as one of this season's most thrilling performances.

The story describes with sheer dramatic force the horror of men fighting with disease-ridden swamps under a merciless tropic sun until they are aroused to mutiny by a former cavalry officer who is now a trusty, known as Convict 88, portrayed by Conrad Veidt.

MORE MILES PER GALLON

It is surprising the number of cars that use 10% to 20% more gas than necessary when only a few minor adjustments would save many extra dollars. Experience shows that nearly every car that is NOT CHECKED with a Motor Tester at regular intervals is wasting gas. The facts are that all cars gradually get "out of line" from ordinary use and should be checked every 3,000 to 4,000 miles. The small cost is offset by the dollars you save in operation to say nothing of the increased satisfaction. Drive in—we will save you money.

Around the Docks

Two Big Liners Here Wednesday—Pacific Grove Due Tonight—Many Lumber Ships Posted—"Princesses" Get Overhaul

Wednesday will be a busy day at the Ocean Docks with two big liners in port, the Empress of Canada in the morning and the Niagara in the afternoon. James Macfarlane, local agent for the Canadian Pacific, was advised this morning by Capt. A. J. Hosken the Empress of Canada will reach William Head at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning on her way to the Orient and Honolulu. She is bringing a large list of passengers.

The Niagara, on her way to Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney, will leave a couple of hours at Victoria late Wednesday afternoon on her way from Vancouver to sea.

RECEIVING OVERHAUL
The C.P.R. tug Qualicum is receiving extensive overhaul at the Bay Street plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot. Repairs are being made to her boilers and her hull and she will be on the slipway in the upper Inner Harbor for another week or ten days.

LUMBER SHIPS
The freighter Larchbank, Capt. Robert Nimmo, on her first visit to northwest waters, left Victoria yesterday morning and proceeded to Crofton. She took 100,000 feet of lumber at Ogden Point for Australia.

King Brothers expect a large number of freighters here to load lumber before the end of the month. On the board in their office are the Cathness, due Wednesday, the Ellsworth, due Thursday, the Ardianham, due Friday, and the Brynle, the Sutherland, the Chr. Knudsen, the Barhill, the Barrington Court and the Bonnington Court.

PREPARE FOR SPRING
The Princess Marguerite and the Princess Kathleen are now receiving annual overhaul in the Inner Harbor and both will be drydocked at Esquimalt before starting service in May.

The Princess Marguerite will be the first of the two to make her way to the traveling public this year. On May 2 she is scheduled to relieve the St. Princess Joan on the night run between Victoria and Vancouver.

May 15 the St. Princess Kathleen will take an excursion to Seattle and the following day will go on the triangle run, relieving the Princess Charlotte. The Marguerite will relieve the Princess Victoria on the triangle run about May 26.

San Francisco, April 20.—Fifty-one steamship companies served notice today they would not be responsible for cargo delays or demurrage at this port as a dispute with longshoremen virtually halting shipping through the Golden Gate.

The move of the steamship lines, in the form of a notice to shippers and consignees of freight, came after the San Francisco local of the International Longshoremen's Association repudiated a tentative truce agreement.

Repudiation of the agreement led to an open break between the officials of the local and Pacific Coast district officials of the I.L.A.

While Harry Bridges, militant local president, sought support from the Maritime Federation of the Pacific, William J. Lewis, Pacific Coast president of the I.L.A., declared the peace agreement "stand." He said it will be placed before the local membership for a vote tonight.

SHIP RUNS AWAY AT CHRISTENING
New Liner Belfast Moved Too Swiftly And Had To Be Christened In Water

Belfast, Northern Ireland, April 20.—Workmen knocked out the last blocks, and the 9,000-ton liner Belfast moved swiftly—all too swiftly—toward the water.

In the confusion the christening was bungled, the bottle of champagne was unbroken. A motorboat was summoned. Officials, with the bottle of champagne, made a hurried trip in drizzling rain, caught up with the liner, and fulfilled the bottle smashing custom on water.

Polar Ship Returns From the Antarctic

Ms. Wyatt Earp Reaches New York With Sir Hubert Wilkins, Lincoln Ellsworth and "Hans" the Stow-away Cat

New York, April 20.—Home from Little America, Lincoln Ellsworth's motor ship Wyatt Earp came up the bay yesterday to end a trip halfway around the world with an expeditionary force of seventeen men and a nonchalant cat known as Hans.

There was modest talk among the explorers about their claim of 350,000 square miles at the South Pole for the United States, but most of the conversation concerned Hans, watching the New York skyline from a seat of honor atop the Polar Star, the plane in which Herbert Hollick-Kenyon of Winnipeg flew with Lincoln Ellsworth.

Hans was a stowaway. The cat boarded the southbound ship at Montevideo, Uruguay, uninvited. A messenger took him back to town. When the cat returned to the ship, Hans was waiting for him.

Even though the crew said "he was too darned lazy to chase rats aboard ship," Hans got to the Antarctic, missing only the Ellsworth-Hollick-Kenyon flight across the snow and ice when the two men were lost to the outside world, to be rescued later by a British whaler.

New York's official welcoming committee went down the Bay to greet the men, only to miss Sir Hubert Wilkins, who was on the ship at the time. He got off the motorship earlier at quarantine.

For Ellsworth, who arrived here earlier by train, it was a happy reunion with the men under him in the last unclaimed area on the face of the globe.

His airplane flight with pilot Hollick-Kenyon, Ellsworth said: "We were in no danger at all. When we landed, and were stuck, we had plenty of food. Matter of fact we were never lost at all. It was simply a matter of waiting until the boys came to get us."

The Polar Star had a crumpled fuselage, token of the last landing made on the flight across the ice plateau of the South Pole region. Ellsworth said he planned to place it on exhibition here for several weeks.

BATTERY DOES TWENTY KNOTS

New Polish Liner Pronounced Ready For Maiden Voyage to New York Next Month

Trieste, April 20.—After three days of thorough testing for speed and efficiency of operation in the Adriatic, the new Polish turbine liner Batory has pronounced fit and ready for her maiden voyage to Gdynia on New York, May 17 to 26, by Capt. Eustachy Borkowski and a technical commission of experts.

In her trial runs, the Batory attained a maximum speed of twenty knots with no discernible vibration and with faultless functioning of equipment. The commission of experts made particular note of the remarkably small amount of fuel oil needed on the high-speed runs.

The Batory will proceed to Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia, whence it will continue through the Mediterranean to Barcelona, Spain; from there, to Casablanca, Morocco, then to Madeira, Lisbon, through the English Channel to London, and finally to her home port of Gdynia, arriving May 11.

She will have on board 650 passengers who came by special train from Poland to Trieste.

The Batory is the sister-ship of the Pilsudski, which entered the Atlantic service last September. The two ships will be in the service of the Gdynia American Line, on the New York - Halifax - Copenhagen - Gdynia run. At a normal speed of eighteen knots, the New York-Copenhagen run is cut down to eight days, and the Gdynia run to eight and a half days. Like the Pilsudski, the Batory is 514 feet long, seventy-two feet beam, has a replacement of 16,000 horsepower and a capacity of 700 passengers.

Both ships were built in Trieste by an Italian shipyard in compensation trade for more than $6,000,000 worth of coal to be shipped by Poland during a five-year period.

The technical commission supervising the trial runs of the Batory was composed of Engineer J. Baginski of the Polish Ministry of Commerce; Martin Peterson, technical inspector of the Gdynia American Line; A. Bomba, chief engineer of the Batory, and Captain Eustachy Borkowski, newly-appointed master of the Batory.

TO BICYCLE ON ISLAND
Prominent Rotarian of Channel Islands Coming to Victoria to Visit

Montreal, April 20.—The longest way round is the sweetest way from Jersey to New Jersey for H. C. LeMessurier, president of the Rotary Club of Jersey, Channel Islands. The sweetest part of the journey which will be by way of Toronto, Niagara, Banff, Vancouver, Victoria, San Francisco, Los Angeles and the Grand Canyon, Chicago and Atlantic City, he told reporters who interviewed him when he arrived with Mrs. LeMessurier aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford, will be a six weeks' stay at Victoria with their daughter, Mrs. T. V. Leffuray, 212 Newport Avenue.

With true Rotarian zeal, Mr. LeMessurier spoke of the beauties of the Channel Islands and with true bankers' caution, he retired as manager of a bank in St. Helier last year—it was economic beauties he enumerated. "We have no death duties, no stamp taxes and our income tax is only fourpence in the pound," he said.

Canadian securities are looked upon as excellent investments, Mr. LeMessurier said, but he regrets that very few issues of bearer bonds have been made recently. Bearer bonds are the favorite investment of the Channel Islands, he pointed out.

During his stay on Vancouver Island, the Jersey Rotarian plans to "push-bike" his way around. For years, Mrs. LeMessurier said, bicycling has been her husband's favorite vacation. He has several times explored the island of Corsica that way and once was interrupted in a night's sleep by bandits. Italy and Algeria are the other two countries, he has covered by bicycle, cycling as far as the desert as Biskra in the Alger country.

Mr. LeMessurier is looking forward to salmon fishing on Vancouver Island and to pointing out to the Rotary Club of Jersey City that the State of New Jersey was founded by Channel Islanders.

TO BICYCLE ON ISLAND
Prominent Rotarian of Channel Islands Coming to Victoria to Visit

Montreal, April 20.—The longest way round is the sweetest way from Jersey to New Jersey for H. C. LeMessurier, president of the Rotary Club of Jersey, Channel Islands. The sweetest part of the journey which will be by way of Toronto, Niagara, Banff, Vancouver, Victoria, San Francisco, Los Angeles and the Grand Canyon, Chicago and Atlantic City, he told reporters who interviewed him when he arrived with Mrs. LeMessurier aboard the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford, will be a six weeks' stay at Victoria with their daughter, Mrs. T. V. Leffuray, 212 Newport Avenue.

With true Rotarian zeal, Mr. LeMessurier spoke of the beauties of the Channel Islands and with true bankers' caution, he retired as manager of a bank in St. Helier last year—it was economic beauties he enumerated. "We have no death duties, no stamp taxes and our income tax is only fourpence in the pound," he said.

Canadian securities are looked upon as excellent investments, Mr. LeMessurier said, but he regrets that very few issues of bearer bonds have been made recently. Bearer bonds are the favorite investment of the Channel Islands, he pointed out.

During his stay on Vancouver Island, the Jersey Rotarian plans to "push-bike" his way around. For years, Mrs. LeMessurier said, bicycling has been her husband's favorite vacation. He has several times explored the island of Corsica that way and once was interrupted in a night's sleep by bandits. Italy and Algeria are the other two countries, he has covered by bicycle, cycling as far as the desert as Biskra in the Alger country.

Mr. LeMessurier is looking forward to salmon fishing on Vancouver Island and to pointing out to the Rotary Club of Jersey City that the State of New Jersey was founded by Channel Islanders.

Excursion Rates
Arouse Interest

Much interest is being taken in the forthcoming excursions over Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway to points up the island.

With the coming of the fine weather, many Victorians are planning week-end holiday jaunts to some of the lovely spots farther up the line and it is expected a large group will take advantage of the special rates at the coming week-end.

The going dates are Friday and Saturday of this week, with the return limit good to leave destination not later than Tuesday, April 28.

Points on the E. & N. Railway to which the special rates will be honored are Westholme, Chemainus, Ladysmith, Wellington, Nanaimo, Qualicum Beach, Ropotan, Pakenville, Panny Bay, Duncan and Port Alberni, as well as all other points on the railway.

Germany Solidly Behind Hitler

Montreal, April 20.—Impressed with the growing solidarity of the German people and the importance to the Dominion of the empire trade pacts, V. G. Bartram, Montreal, vice-president Shawinigan Chemicals, returned on the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford from a three months' business trip to Europe.

"It was twice in Germany," he said, "and there is no doubt the Germans are getting more and more solidly behind Hitler all the time. The big men in industry, less favorable to the leader's policies in the past, are swinging in behind him and in ten years, as a result of new adherents and the youth movement, the solidarity will be general."

Canada must be prepared to concede more in return for the benefits empire trade agreements confer upon her, Mr. Bartram said, in view of the evident policy of the British Government to knit the empire more closely together from an economic standpoint. It is quite obvious he said that the intention of the government
